'Trick' Farm Program Is Presented by Truman Doors Open at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Daily

If Prices Go Down, Farmers Wouldn't Lose

Washington, April 7 (AP)—A "have-your-cake-and-eat-it-too" farm program was offered by the Truman administration today.

It would give consumers a break by letting food prices drop, but would guarantee to farmers the same profits they could make if food prices were up.

The program, outlined by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan before a joint meeting of the house and senate agriculture committees, would eliminate many of the present economic devices employed by the government.

The present program puts a floor under many major food items. It buys and holds off the market enough surplus foods to keep prices at certain levels.

Prices Would Drop

The new program would let prices drop if a surplus occurred, but the farmer would get paid by the government for the loss incurred by the decline.

Meanwhile, the senate debate on the European recovery program neared a vote today when economy-minded opponents dropped their fight to cut the $5,580,000,000 total.

As the debate went into its 12th day, Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois and Senator Connolly (D-Tex.) predicted a final vote on the administration-backed program to aid western Europe another 15 months would be reached late today.

The house took up the $757,216,102 appropriations bill to finance operations of the state, commerce and justice departments for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The senate judiciary subcommittee continued public hearings on a bill to tighten the espionage laws.

Hearings On Housing

The house banking committee opened hearings on public housing plans, a multi-billion dollar program for federal housing and slum clearance.

Other hearings included:

Pensions—The house veterans committee went on with its study of the Rankin pension bill that would give veterans of World War I $72 a month at the age of 65 if they needed it.

Oleomargarine—The senate finance committee announced after a closed door meeting that it will open public hearings tomorrow on legislation to end the 65-year-old tax on oleomargarine. The hearings will run through next Wednesday. The house already has passed a bill repealing the tax.

Royall Summoned

Unification—Secretary of Army Royall was called before the senate armed services committee in a private session to discuss legislation to tighten unification of the army, navy and air force.

Social Security—Secretary of Labor Tobin today urged a boost in old age benefits to help overcome what he called "threats to our stability as a nation" posed by the "personal insecurities" of its citizens.

Tobin testified before the house ways and means committee studying social security plans advocated by President Truman.

Man Held on $2,000 Bail in Jail Here

Billy Eugene Ellsworth, age 25, formerly of Amboy, who appeared before the Justice of the Peace John O. Snaulis, on a charge of disturbing the peace today, is being held in county jail. Ellsworth was unable to furnish bond, set at $2,000. He served a sentence in the Oklahoma state penitentiary.

He was charged with "disturbing the peace and quiet" of the family of Mabel Stauffer Amboy, by "loud and unusual noises, offensive carriage threatening, quarreling and use of indecent and obscene language."

Chief Sheriff's Deputy Charles Redebaugh, picked Ellsworth up at Amboy, yesterday. Mabel Stauffer, Amboy, signed the complaint.

The unusually high bail was set to give authorities time to question Ellsworth on several matters which the sheriff's office does not care to divulge at this time.

That Rooster Is Now a Cause of Action in Court

Los Angeles, April 7 (AP)—Lazarus, the headless rooster, will learn Saturday whether another attempt will be to execute him.

The three-and-a-half pound fryer cheated the trying pan by remaining very much alive after losing his head last Saturday.

Dr. Alap Ross, a veterinarian who took the bird in tow from its original purchaser, Mrs. Martha Green, must appear in court Saturday to answer a charge filed against him. He is accused of violating a state penal code section governing custody of maimed or mutilated animals.

The complaint issued yesterday was requested by agents of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Dr. Ross says the decapitated bird, which is fed with an eyedropper, may be valuable for research. He told SPCA agents he will fight it out in the courts.

TONY CARSELLO, ACCORDIONIST

RAY BORDEN ED REITER

During the Dixon Merchants and Evening Telegraph 'Home Show' that opened this afternoon at the National Guard armory, the entertainers shown above will offer stage shows both afternoon and night. They are top-notch musicians, vocalists and comedians. The home show doors open at 2 in the afternoon and at 7 in the evening. The show closes Saturday night.

The doors on the record-breaking Dixon Merchants-Evening Telegraph "Better Homes Show" opened at the Dixon Armory this afternoon, with the crowds expected to tax the capacity of the huge auditorium before closing tonight.

Leo Gorman Is New Owner of Dixon Floral

Leo Gorman, 238 Everett street, Dixon, today became the owner and manager of the Dixon Floral Co., at 117 East First street. He took possession immediately and plans to renovate the premises and to improve the service. His sister, Mrs. Jack Malay, now residing in Rock Island, is to be associated with him in the operation of the business. Mrs. Nina McGinnis, who has been saleslady and designer at the store for more than a year will continue in that capacity.

Mrs. McGinnis is a graduate of the Mrs. "Tommy" Bright school of floral design in Chicago, which she attended during September and October of 1947. She is also a member of the Iowa Florists' association and has attended several refresher courses in floral design.

The new owner of the store is not a newcomer in floral circles in Dixon. From 1929 to 1937 he was associated with the Dixon Floral Co., both in the sales and designing capacity. For the past few years he has been a salesman, but continued to maintain his home in Dixon where he is widely known.

Exhibitors, who have been working for days arranging their booths, placed the finishing touches on the exhibits this morning and thus by the opening hour, 2 p. m., the three lanes of displays were trim and neat.

Forty-four booths, representing 25 Dixon merchants, constitute the 1949 show. There are "gadgets" for almost every conceivable use by the home-owner. The "gadget-happy" man about the home, or farm, will find plenty to cheer about in the 1949 exhibits. Everything from an electric toaster to the newest design in a rear-engine tractor is being shown.

Mrs. Housewife, too, can spend a couple of profitable and pleasant hours touring the booths. Homemaking hints in interior decoration, the newest in kitchen appliances and furniture designs, and myriads of other articles are there ready to be examined. Special representatives will be at every exhibit to explain and discuss the many items.

The "Better Homes Exhibit" will run for three days, and each evening there'll be a floor show beginning about 7 p. m. Music, and song by the "Four Captivators" direct from Chicago are featured.

All-in-all the 1949 "Better Homes Show" exceed all previous shows of this nature in this area. It is a "must" for your weekend plans.

Dr. Ryan's New Book Given Press Praise

Irv Kupcinet, who writes a column in the Chicago Sun-Times, makes mention of a well known former Dixonite in his paragraphs Wednesday:

"Dr. Edward Ryan, past president of the Chicago Dental Society and editor of three dental journals in Evanston, emerges as a full-blown Abe Lincoln authority with publication of his new book, 'Comes an Echo on the Breeze'."

Dr. Ryan, outstanding dental author and writer, is well known in Dixon, having been a former member of the Dixon Evening Telegraph editorial staff and maintains a year-around retreat at his estate near the south approach to the Grand Detour bridge. Several friends in Dixon have read his latest work on Lincolnshire which indicates much research in gathering data on the life of the Civil war president, both before and during the Black Hawk war.

College Enrollment Is Down 6.6 Per Cent

Chicago, April 7 (AP)—Editors estimated today that the nation's 1949 college enrollment will be 6.6 per cent below last year's.

They also estimated it will drop 19 per cent by 1952. But they figure that in 1950 it will be 2.8 per cent larger than in 1948.

The estimates were made by the college enrollment group of the National Educational Association conference on higher education, ending a three-day Chicago meeting.

They said the predicted declines of the next few years would be caused by a gradual fall in war veteran students. The 1950 increase estimate is based on expected increases in population and literacy and higher living standards.

Aurora Fire Loss Reported $250,000

Aurora, Ill., April 7 (AP)—Fire today destroyed the Aurora Motor Sales company building at the edge of the business district. It was fought by firemen from five cities and east a haze of smoke over the entire business area. Nearby buildings were threatened.

An insurance adjuster estimated loss to the building, a recently remodeled one-story brick structure, at $250,000. Five trucks and four automobiles, including two new Fords in the showroom, also were destroyed. The additional loss of the cars and other equipment was placed at $100,000.

Rudolph Malaker, a fireman, suffered a wrenched shoulder fighting the blaze. No other injuries were reported.

State's Attorney Passes His Tests

Springfield, Ill., April 7 (AP)—Philip Benefiel, state's attorney of Lawrence county, has passed his state bar examination. It was announced here today.

Mark Roberts, secretary of the state board of law examiners, said Benefiel made the grade on his second test, which he took in March. He will be admitted to the bar with a new class of attorneys at state supreme court ceremonies in May.

Benefiel learned after his election last November that he had flunked his first bar examination. A circuit court judge ruled several weeks ago that Benefiel, a 25 year old University of Illinois student, was not qualified for

Steve Early Is Named to Defense Post

Washington, April 7 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Stephen T. Early, long time former white house secretary, to be undersecretary of defense.

The appointment fills a new post created by a law Truman signed Saturday.

The idea is that the undersecretary will, in effect, be "general manager" of the military establishment, handling many details and leaving Secretary of Defense Louis A. Johnson more time for dealing with policy matters.

Early, 60, is now vice president of the Pullman company and of its manufacturing affiliate, Pullman, Inc. He is a Washington resident.

Known to thousands of newsmen as "Steve," Early was the close confidant and press secretary of the late President Roosevelt.

He stayed on briefly at the White House after Roosevelt's death, then accepted the posts with the Pullman companies.

Lindquist Says He's Not Looking to Veterans to Pay Flag Pole Hole Cost

The Lindquist Construction Co., which has $275.47 due from the Lee county board of supervisors for excavating a flag pole hole in front of the court house, has no intentions of looking to veterans organizations for payment. That was made clear in a letter received by The Dixon Evening Telegraph today, as a follow up to a story in this paper Tuesday pointing out that county board members had figuratively thrown the bill into the laps of the veterans for their activity in getting the flag pole located.

The letter received by The Evening Telegraph this morning, was signed by George Lindquist, who is a city commissioner as well as a member of the Lindquist Construction Co.

The letter follows:

Editor: Dixon Evening Telegraph Dixon, Illinois

Dear sir:

We have read with considerable interest your story dealing with "Lindquist's Flag Pole Hole Bill" and the fact that it seems up to various Veteran's Organizations to pay for the work incurred in the first location of the flag pole.

We wish to state at this time that we want all Veteran's Organizations to know that we have no intention of looking to them for payment of this bill. This is not a function of these service groups. There are so many problems in the City of Dixon and the County that far outrank this item in importance that we do not wish to have their energy expended in trying to get money together to pay this bill. That is our position even if the bill is never paid.

Sees 'Good Faith'

It seems to us that the majority opinion of the community supports the present location of the flag

Find Body of Missing Peru Mayor in River

Peru, Ill., April 7 (AP)—The body of Joe W. Lemler, 48-year-old mayor of Peru who had been missing since March 18, was found in the Illinois river today two miles south of Hennepin.

The body, armless and badly battered, was identified by Peru's chief of police, Fred Mathias; Peru Alderman Gordon W. Morrow, and by a nephew of Mayor Lemler, Harry Welch, Jr., of Peru. Identification was made from an abdominal scar and from a key-chain in the pocket, which bore a tag reading "Joe Lemler."

The body was sighted and brought to shore by the crew of the tugboat Henry Sturgis.

Lemler had not been seen since his automobile was found March 18 parked near the river bridge at Spring Valley, about 12 miles from where the body was recovered.

Mayor Lemler, completely his first term, was a candidate for reelection. An inquest will be held in Granville.

If a Body Gets a Body, What Can a Body Do?

Elgin, Ill., April 7 (AP)—A man's body remained unclaimed in an Elgin funeral home today, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ruffcorn wondered who would refund $476 they paid to bring the body here.

It happened like this: Seattle police informed the Ruffcorns their son, Lewis, a partly disabled navy veteran, had died of heart disease there last Friday. So the Ruffcorns asked that the body be shipped here for burial. When the body arrived Tuesday, however, it wasn't that of their son.

A hasty telephone check revealed their son alive and well in Seattle. But who was the dead man? Seattle police didn't know. So Elgin police have sent the fingerprints to the FBI in Washington.

The Ruffcorns paid $206 to have the body sent here, $70 to have it clothed in a new suit, and about $100 in long distance tolls and miscellaneous expenses.

Ed Campbell Buys Kelly Homestead

Edward Campbell has purchased the Kelly homestead, at 416 East Second street, his birthplace and the home of his late grandfather, J. W. Kelly, well known cement contractor in the Dixon area.

The new owner is making extensive improvements on the property which are now under way.

Amos Berry at Great Lakes Recruit Camp

Amos E. Berry, seaman recruit, USN, son of Amos O. Berry of 808 Jackson avenue, is undergoing recruit training at the world's largest naval training center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Recruit training is the sharp break between civilian and naval life in which the new navy man learns the fundamental principles of the naval service.

Upon completion of his training the recruit is assigned either to units of the fleet or to a service school for specialized training.

Lowry Jury Unable to Reach a Verdict

After deliberating for five and one-half hours Tuesday, the jury sitting in on the drunken driving charge case against DeForest Lowry, Oregon, could not reach a verdict. It was deadlocked. Judge Grover W. Gehant of county court, dismissed the jury about 9:30 p. m. last night.

It is expected that the case will be tried before a different jury at a later date.

Steericker Home Is Robbed in Afternoon

Police are investigating a reported robbery at the home of Charles Steericker, 921 Sixth St., Tuesday.

According to the report, the house was broken into sometime between 1 p. m. and 6 p. m. yesterday. A wrist watch and $55 was stolen.

Police Officers Tyne, Wilson and Trotter responded to the call at the Steericker home last night.

Drake Band to Give Concert at Morrison

The Drake University concert band of Des Moines, Iowa, now on its spring tour, will present a program of concert and march music at the high school in Morrison Thursday afternoon, April 21 at 2 o'clock. The group is composed of 82 students and three faculty members and 71 of this number are music majors. Twenty-two World War II veterans play with the band.

No Evidence of 'Flying Saucers' Says Air Force

Washington, April 7 (AP)—The Air Force said today there has been no tangible evidence up to now that a foreign power is sending "Flying Saucers" over the United States. But, it added: "On the other hand, there is no evidence to deny categorically such a possibility."

The Air Force has been investigating reports of strange, luminous objects shooting through the skies at intervals during the past several months.

Soviets Attend Army Day Party, But Chill Is There

Berlin, April 7.—(AP)—The Russians were very pleased the Russians made two moves last night accepted the invitation. That's all in contradiction to their recent ac-

The Russians' partial recognition of the west mark was interpreted by American officials as a matter of necessity. The Soviets announced the west mark would be accepted in payment for fares in honor of Army day and they partially lifted their ban against the allied-sponsored west mark in this cold war city.

The Russians previously had clung to their edict outlawing the western mark. But when the western powers on March 29 made the west mark the sole legal tender for western Berlin, the Russians were put on the spot.

The issue they faced was that thousands of west Berliners working for the railway system needed the west marks to pay for their food and rent.

The western powers told them to settle the issue with their Communist-controlled employers. The Russians stated they said they had no west marks. Then the workers threatened to strike.

The Russians obviously couldn't afford to fire all these people and they couldn't afford to let a strike tie up the city's transport.

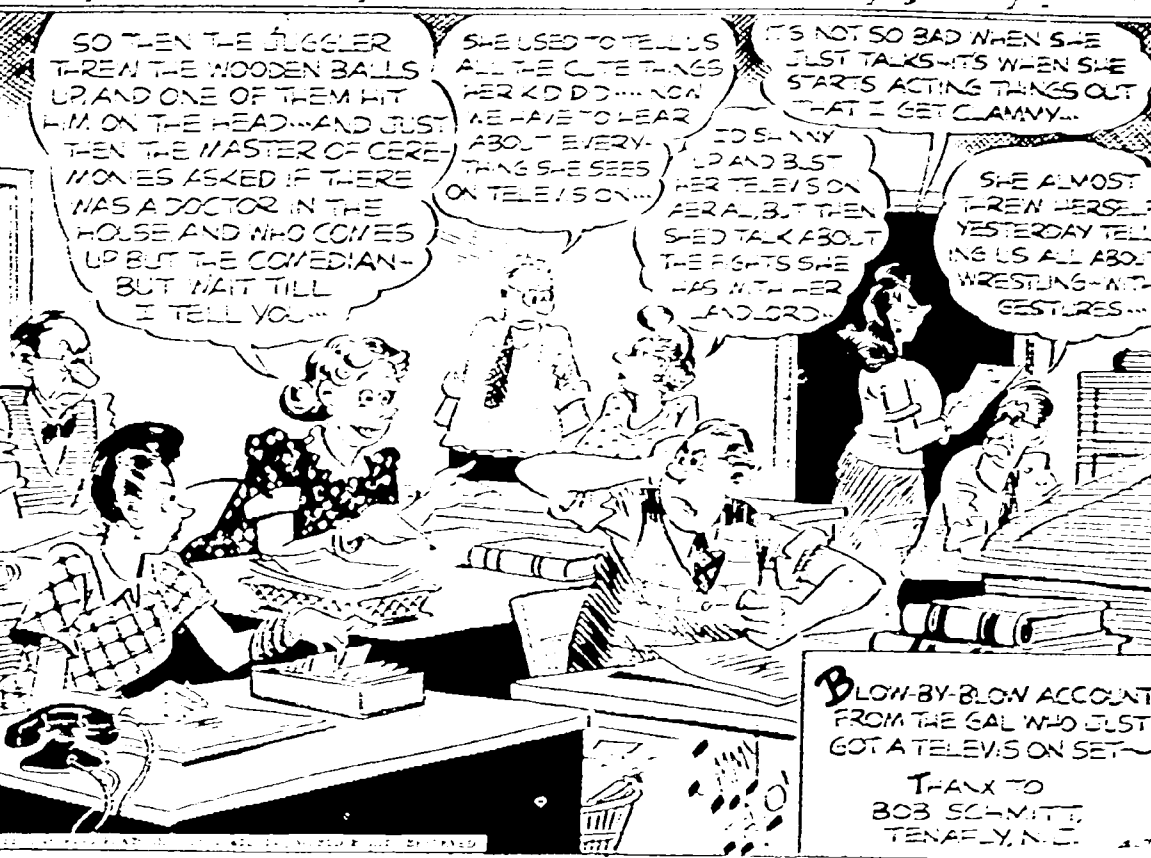

The apparent solution was to accept both Russian and western currencies for fares and freight.

J. F. Kibbitt, chief of the American military government's finance branch, said:

"Obviously this move was forced upon the Russians. They have to get west marks to pay their western employees and that's the only way to do it. It was a question of giving in on this or facing labor trouble, a matter of necessity and not one of big-heartedness."

So far, there has been no sign

Saddened Effingham Buries Victims; Plan New Hospital

Effingham, Ill., April 7.—(AP)—Grieving Effingham buried most of its fire-disaster dead today then resolutely began work on plans to replace St. Anthony hospital where at least 69 persons perished Tuesday.

While funeral services were held here and in nearby Casey, Deiterich, Montrose, Stewardson and Shumway, firemen continued digging in the hospital ruins for other bodies. Besides the 69 known dead, five other persons still were missing and believed buried in the wreckage. Seven bodies remained unidentified.

Thirteen babies who died in the flames which swept the building in about an hour were buried yesterday.

Money Is Pledged The Roman Catholic order of St. Francis, which had operated the hospital for 76 years, already has pledged $225,000 for the new building, and civic leaders expected to match that amount in a six-day money-raising campaign. Insurance benefits will add $200,000 to the fund.

Solicitation teams of 500 workers were being organized to contact all of Effingham county's 7,500 families for contributions. Tentative plans were for erection of a 150-bed hospital to cost about $2,500,000 with state and federal financial aid.

Bud Mansfield, owner of an electrical supply company here, had pledged $5,000 to the fund and small contributions were received by mail from Chicago and South Dakota.

Mayor M. B. Rinehart said he will proclaim next Tuesday, as a memorial day for the disaster victims. Business establishments in the city will be closed that day for the services. Invited guests were expected to include Bishop William A. O'Connor of the Springfield, Ill., Roman Catholic diocese, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Senator Scott Lucas (D-Ill.), and Mayor Martin Kennedy of Chicago.

Seek Federal Aid Meanwhile, Mayor Rinehart asked federal aid in providing the city with hospital facilities pending completion of the new building. In a telegram to President Truman, Hinehart said: "Request you furnish us a complete temporary hospital unit of 125 beds and necessary equipment to serve our needs until erection of new hospital facilities." Emergency facilities for maternity cases have been established at the Effingham clinic, and Nuns of the hospital staff expected to have the slightly-damaged operating room of St. Anthony cleaned up for use today. The Nuns also offered their nursing services to patients in private homes.

Douglas Examined by King's Doctor

Southampton, Eng., April 7.—(AP)—U. S. Ambassador Lewis Douglas was examined today by King George's surgeon-oculist, Sir Stewart Duke-Elder.

A spokesman at Southampton free eye hospital said the condition of the ambassador, who snuggled a fish hook in his left eye while trout fishing Monday, remains serious.

Sir Stewart arranged to examine him again Saturday.

Springtime a Headache to Industry

By SAM DAWSON

New York, April 7 (AP)—Spring fever is plaguing many industries. It seems their customers have just taken the month off to go fishing.

"I have found that reducing prices does not increase orders," the president of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. told stockholders yesterday. "Instead, it tends to reduce orders, because customers hold off buying, hoping there will be further price cuts."

So he has curtailed window glass production 25 per cent, after orders dropped 50 per cent.

Inventories Low

He has plenty of company among executives who are convinced their customers' inventories are getting lower and lower while they go fishing for lower prices. And, of course, there are plenty of retail store owners who believe men's suits are wearing mightily thin while they wait for price cuts.

Meanwhile, makers of men's suits are chewing their pencils trying to decide this month what price they can tack onto fall suits. And so, they wait to buy fabrics for fall, still hoping the mills will cut prices to the level the cutters demand. The mills report orders are so few and far between they must cut production.

In this industry everyone seems to be off fishing—the customer, the retailer, the suit cutter, and even the mill owner, because the fabric maker thinks if he can hold off long enough all the others are going to have to start buying again.

Metal men have suffered most spectacularly this month while their customers went fishing. Since March 8, lead sellers have knocked 6½ cents a pound off the record high price of 21½ cents, in five patent attempts to find at what level they can lure customers back into the market.

Zinc Is Quiet

Zinc sellers have made two efforts to drum up trade, cutting their price a total of 2½ cents from the post-war high of 17½ cents a pound. So far they're reported not buying much.

Steel mills are now stepping up the cutting or prices to keep customers. When that doesn't work, they shut down some of their furnaces. So far, the price cuts on steel products have merely brought certain higher priced producers down to the level maintained by the majority of the industry all along. The price hasn't crashed through that floor yet. But the day steel customers pleaded of deliveries at any price is gone.

Industries in which layoffs of workers are reported today include steel, brass, plate glass, and textiles.

Hospital Must Pay $10,000, Court Says

Washington, April 7 (AP)—A district court jury decided yesterday that a casualty hospital doctor had improperly treated a woman dog-bite victim and ordered the hospital to pay her husband $10,000 damages.

The verdict was in favor of Marley P. Anderson, a building maintenance man. His wife, Mrs. Lucia Anderson, 59, died in November, 1944, two months after the biting. The hospital argued its treatment had been adequate

Bonds Worth $690,000 Are Thrown Away

New York, April 7 (AP)—Before bank official Richard Crowe made his flight to Florida, he paid 100 debts and dumped $690,000 in bonds into New York harbor, a government attorney says.

At Crowe's arraignment here last night, Chief Assistant U.S. Attorney Irving Saypol gave details of the looting of $883,660 in National City bank funds.

The attorney said the husky, 41-year-old banker had packed his bag with "as much currency as he could carry"—$193,660 in cash—from the vault of the branch bank where he was assistant manager.

Crowe, with only some small change in his pocket, was returned here by plane from Florida yesterday—ten days after he disappeared.

Tanned but glum as he stepped from a plane at La Guardia field, Crowe was whisked away by FBI agents.

At his arraignment bail of $100,000, set by an arrangement in Tampa, Fla., was continued. A grand jury now must act on the federal embezzlement charge.

Saypol told the court that Crowe planned the embezzlement on Thursday, March 24, the day before he looted the vault of the Broadway Branch bank.

Over that weekend, Crowe remained at his Staten Island home, the attorney said, keeping up his social life, and dispatching money to some 100 creditors. The FBI said he mailed about $61,000 to persons he owed.

On Sunday, Saypol related, Crowe took a ride on the Staten Island ferry, and tossed an envelope with $690,000 in bonds from the bank into New York bay. Earlier, Crowe was quoted as saying he threw the bonds into the Atlantic ocean to spite the bank's officials.

The next day, Crowe did not appear at the bank for work.

Crowe was arrested last Monday at Daytona Beach, Fla. after FBI men had traced him through two automobiles he had purchased and then abandoned. He still had $34,798 in his suitcase.

The old Negro said "Money may be all right, but yo' sho' kin waste a powerful lot of time makin' it."

WERE HAPPY to report that the Dixon Merchants ball team is progressing nicely. The patient was wobbly at the start but thanks to the help from Bill Thompson and a dozen or more other merchants, the club is now on the way to a healthy start in life.

IN FACT Manager Chuck Christensen has called the first practice session for 1 p. m. Sunday at Reynolds Field. We'll tell you more about the prospects after they get a few spikes in the ground.

RIGHT NOW, of course, the interest is centered on the prospects for a Big Six league reorganization. The Midwest league seems eager to go, but there's got to be a spot for a few of the "left-out" teams to land. That isn't to be interpreted that they were barred by the Midwest. Such clubs as Walton, Dixon Merchants, and Polo Hoffmanns were skeptical whether they could meet the competition so they choose to seek a league of their own. It was a smart move. This Midwest league, we are being constantly informed, is a loop of man-eaters.

SEASON TICKETS for the six football games at Memorial stadium, Champaign, are being offered for the first time in history by the University of Illinois.

A total of 8,194 choice seats between the 20-yard lines can be had by those who order between now and June 15. Athletic Director Doug Mills has announced. Price of the season books will be $21.60, all tax included, the same as the regular price for individual purchase of tickets to those six games. A season ticket-holder will receive the same seat for all contests.

T. O. WHITE, sports editor of the Champaign News-Gazette, is quick to remind an eastern sports fan that Dwight Eddleman, not Wallace (Wah Wah) Jones, Kentucky's great star, holds the all-time scoring record in high school.

Jones, prior to his Wildcat days, scored 2,398 points for Harlan county, but Eddleman's four-year record at Central is 2,702 points.

ADD TO THE "Coaches-that-got-fired" list, John A. (Noppy) Noppenberger, football and basketball coach, and Charles Barrett, basketball coach, both of Peoria high school.

IT WAS charged that the coach and players were "incompatible"; that Noppenberger often left classes unsupervised; that his attitude was generally "negative". Similar charges were aimed at Barrett.

BOTH WERE also accused of having a "throw in the ball" attitude, meaning that coaches would simply supply teams with a ball and afford them little or no further supervision.

Radio, Television, Are New Factors in Player's Claim That It Is 'Big Business'

(Editor's note: This is the fourth in a series of stories on the Gardella case and baseball's reserve clause.)

By TED SMITH

New York, April 7.—(AP)—Back in 1922 the U. S. Supreme court said baseball was a peculiar business and not under the anti-trust laws.

Now Danny Gardella, Max Lanier and Fred Martin say it is just plain business, period—and very much under those laws.

Danny with his attorney, Frederic A. Johnson, sued for $300,000 damages because he was banned from organized baseball—couldn't work, in other words—after playing in the Mexican league in 1946.

Federal Judge Henry Goodard on July 14, 1948, dismissed the case but on Feb. 9, 1949, the U. S. Court of Appeals in New York reversed the ruling, and allowed that radio and television are new factors.

Lanier and Martin promptly joined in with actions for $2,500,000 damages. They, too, were under ban for the Mexican jaunt. However, Lanier and Martin had signed contracts and started the season with the Cardinals when they went south. Gardella, now a $36 a week hospital attendant, had not even signed.

To the baseball club owner, the center of the legal fight is the attack on the reserve clause which makes players virtually the private property of their clubs for their playing careers. Baseball says it must have it.

Here in non-legal language is Johnson's argument that so impressed the circuit court of appeals.

He explains he is suing under the Sherman Anti-Trust law and Clayton Act—in other words, that baseball is more than a sport. He charges it is big business.

Johnson makes three points in his "appellant's brief."

First, that baseball is "engaged in commerce among the several states and with foreign nations. He backs this up by telling about the sale of advertising by ball clubs to radio and television which cross state lines and hence come under federal laws.

Second, "The Washington club and the American league are immediately engaged in restraint of trade and exercise of a monopoly over professional baseball in violation of the two anti-trust laws. Since this happens in the District of Columbia, that alone would bring baseball under those laws.

Third, "The sale of players under a binding reserve clause by the major league clubs from their 'farm' teams is trade or commerce among the several states and with foreign nations."

Under this third point Johnson tells about the Federal league case. That was the league that challeng-

Harold Stroup to Lead Local Group in 1949

Harold Stroup, well-known local horseman, last night was elected president of the Rock River Trailriders and Horsemen's association when that group met in the Loveland Community House for its annual meeting.

Stroup succeeds Carl Hasselberg, manager of the Wilbur Lumber Co. Stroup is employed at the Freeman Shoe Co.

Other officers named were Michael Coffey, vice president; Mrs. Charles Dickey, secretary; and Mrs. Lucille Thomas, treasurer.

The 50 club members present last night discussed tentative plans for the trail-riding season. During the discussion it was announced that the Northern Illinois Horseshow Association will hold its annual banquet in the Dixon Elks club May 7. The association includes members from Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Wisconsin.

It was also announced that at the next session of the local organization, set for April 21 in the Loveland Community House, a movie, "The Horse That America Made," will be shown. The movie was produced under the direction of Truman Ward, one of the country's best-known horsemen.

The public will be invited to attend the movie free of charge. President Stroup said today.

Last night's meeting was concluded with a game session and a lunch.

Sportsmen Near Compton Plan to Rear Pheasants

President Edward "Sparky" Campbell and Secretary Don Ortgiesen of the Dixon Sportsmen's club went to Compton last evening to attend the meeting of the East End club, most recently organized but most active in its program.

The East End Sportsmen have leased a school property north of West Brooklyn and have plans to convert the building into a clubhouse and to establish a pheasant raising farm on the grounds.

Four brooder houses are to be built with a capacity of 250 birds each and the club members plan to raise two hatchings this season, the grown birds to be released within the area. The building on the grounds, which has been discontinued as a school, is to be completely renovated and redecorated and will be used as a meeting place for the club.

Capitol Stop Mikan, But..

Minneapolis, April 7.—(AP)—Red Auerbach's Washington Capitals learned how to stop Minneapolis' George Mikan but the lesson cost them a 76-62 verdict Wednesday night in the second game of the Basketball Association of America title playoffs.

The high-scoring Mikan was held to just ten points, his lowest total of the season. How costly the Caps' lesson may have been is yet to be seen, for the Lakers are now up in the best-of-seven series.

A crowd of 10,212, a BAA record for Minneapolis, saw the Lakers adapt themselves quickly to Washington's revamped defense. The strategy was to throw as many big men as possible at Mikan close to the boards and let the other Lakers shoot from out on the floor.

The long ones went in with a regularity Auerbach must have found disturbing. The Caps made a battle of it through the first period, but the Lakers built up a 21-21 lead early in the second. From then on, Washington trailed by 10 points most of the time and often 15.

The series will be resumed Friday at Washington.

ABC Tournev Nearing End

Atlantic City, N. J., April 7.—(AP)—Time was running short today for the challengers in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

The event ends Saturday, but the five man teams wind up their competition tomorrow night.

Jimmie Smith's of South Bend, Ind., has been the tournament team leader since March 14 with 3027 pins. The Lion's club No. 1 team of Erie, Pa., made up of high school students, is scheduled to bowl tonight. The team recently won the American Junior Bowling Congress tournament with a 2086, including a 111 pin handicap.

There were no changes in the top ten standings in any division yesterday.

Trapshooting Man and Wife Team May Bring U. S. Honors

Dolly and Bill Islets. She grew tired of being a spectator.

Kenosha, Wis. — (NEA) — The Islets captured all the Unique in the trapshooting field of 10 United States experts in the Match-of-Nations opening in Seville, Spain, April 20, will be the Badger blasting duo of Dolly and Bill Islets.

They won the championship in the national husband and wife shoot at Vandana, O., in 1946, have stacked up titles since.

Practically every country will be represented in the shoot, which includes events in Madrid, May 3; Portugal, May 28, and Barcelona, June 1. The trap artists are to be guests of the Spanish government.

The Islets spend half their lives shooting. They hunt pheasants in South Dakota, deer in Wisconsin, operate the Kenosha Trap and Skeet Club, find time to run a sporting goods store here.

The Islets captured all the awards at the Miami, Fla., shoot in 1946. One of the prizes was a trip to Havana, where Bill annexed the world championship.

Dolly, Wisconsin's woman champion, had 2165 hits out of a possible 2400 in 1948.

Mrs. Islets says she started shooting in self-defense. "Shortly after Bill and I were married seven years ago I grew tired of being a spectator, so decided to try my hand. Surprisingly, I tied for the state runner-up that year."

"All trapshooting takes is a wonderful teacher like my husband, good eyesight, co-ordination and steady nerves."

The Islets fly from New York on Easter Sunday, April 17. They are a good parlay to give this country top honors in the international competition.

Mgr. Grimm Worried About His 'Big Four' Mound Staff

Dallas, Tex., April 7.—(AP)—Although the work of the Chicago Cubs' pitchers has been pretty slick—they've allowed only 27 runs in the last seven games—Manager Charlie Grimm is a bit anxious about the hurling arms of his big four.

Neither Johnny Schmitz, Walt Dubiel, Bob Rush nor Dutch Leonard has gone the route so far this year.

Three home runs, two by Roy Smalley, and a seven-run uprising gave the Cubs an 8 to 5 decision over the St. Louis Browns here yesterday.

ONSLOW "OPTIMISTIC" — Beaumont, Tex., April 7.—(AP)—Jack Onslow, Chicago White Sox manager, appeared optimistic today about his "Big Five" pitchers as the Sox awaited a night game with the Beaumont Texas league team.

Onslow has indicated he'll assign the heavy firing to Alben Gettel, Randy Gumpert, Marino Piretti, Howie Hudson and Bill Wright.

FELLER TO PITCH — Fort Worth, Tex., April 7.—(AP)—Bob Feller, superb in his last start for the Cleveland Indians against the Pittsburgh Pirates, will attempt to silence the booming bats of the New York Giants here today.

Effectiveness of Pact Must Wait 30 Days

Washington, April 7 (AP)—A country-by-country survey showed today it may be at least a month before the pact North Atlantic treaty can become binding on the 12 nations which signed it.

Formal ratification was required substantially longer than some officials believe pending a crisis with Soviet Russia which might sour the process.

The United States senate has called for full hearings to precede debate. In Britain, House of Commons rules require that all treaties must be over for a minimum of 21 working days, excluding Sundays and holidays, before being debated.

At the other extreme, three of the countries which signed the pact here on Monday could for ratify it within a few days. The parliaments of Iceland, Denmark and Norway authorized their heads of government to proceed to take the step.

Before coming into effect the pact must be signed by the states which originally sponsored it: the United States, Britain, Canada, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. The

City Dominated States Go Heavy for Daylight Saving

New York, April 7 (AP)—The appeal for golfers, gardeners, commuters, and other lovers of the great outdoors. Farmers oppose it just as much as ever; they insist the cows recognize only standard time.

State legislatures, frequently dominated by rural members, traditionally display hostility to daylight saving. This year was no exception.

The Indiana legislature passed a law this year making standard time official for the entire state. But Indianapolis and cities in northern Indiana plan to get around it by using "fast time" through "recommendations" of city councils and mayors.

Ohio Kills It
In Ohio, a bill for statewide daylight saving was killed. This state probably will split on the question again this year, with Cleveland and nearby cities in the northeastern section adopting it and others staying on eastern standard.

One-third Favor It
A nation-wide survey indicates at least one-third of the nation's 115,000,000 citizens will live under the new time for the late spring and summer.

It continues to have its great remaining signers were Italy and Portugal.

GOP Victory in Michigan Trend, Claim

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—Republicans insisted today the votes that bloomed for their ticket in Michigan's spring election are the first signs of midwest GOP harvest in 1950.

But Democrats contended that the sweep which gave the Republicans all of the state offices not appointed by a Democratic governor has nothing to do with the case elsewhere.

Senator Tatt of Ohio, head of the senate GOP policy committee, told a reporter the Michigan results confirm what he has thought all along.

"This country has been Republican all the time if we just get out the votes," he declared.

Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, the assistant Democratic leader, said he sees nothing significant in the fact that a state which went for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, although it elected Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, is putting Republicans in other offices.

"I don't know, but I suspect that local issues may have had something to do with the outcome," Myers said.

Both major parties have been looking to the midwest as the battleground in the 1950 congressional elections.

Dr. Hinkle Asks More Exits for Athletic Field

The availability of the Dixon high school athletic field for other purposes and added exits to better accommodate the public, were suggested by Dr. Leslie Hinkle in a talk before the Dixon Lions club yesterday afternoon. Dr. Hinkle, a candidate for election to the board of education at next Sunday's regular school election, stressed the importance of providing additional exits from the grand stand section of the field, by installing an exit at the southeast corner of the field and one on the east side. He also suggested installation of exits in the wooden grandstand section, which would permit the stand to be emptied much more rapidly than under present conditions. The recommendations, adopted by the club, are to be submitted to the board of education and to school administrators.

Boy Scout Troop Is Presented Colors

Presentation of colors by two organizations featured the regular meeting of Boy Scout troop, No. 88 last evening at the Lincoln school gymnasium. The national colors were presented by members of Dixon post, No. 12, American Legion, while the troop standard was the present of the Dixon War-Len-Ye club. In the back row are Dr. Frank E. Kiefer, Daniel Miller and Commander Martin Tammann of the Dixon Legion post; Bill Scamm and Bob Elder, color bearers of troop 88; Miss Dorothy Oils, president of the War-Len-Ye club and members, Miss Bilita Jean Keithley, Miss Helen Nangle and Mrs. Hazel Miller.

Non-Partisan ICC Is Asked by Stevenson

Springfield, Ill., April 7.—(AP)—Governor Stevenson today asked the legislature to place the Illinois Commerce Commission on a non-partisan basis and to limit the terms of its members.

Bills continuing out the terms of the commission, which Stevenson said, "are a marginal message in the state," were submitted to the legislature.

The commission, which regulates interstate commerce, is made up of five members.

Stevenson proposed to remove the commission from the direct control of the legislature. The bills providing that the commission be made up of five members, three from the legislature and two from the public.

Terms of the commission would be increased from two to six years and would be staggered so that one or two members would be in each year.

All members would pay a fee of $12,000 a year. At present, the commission members receive $5,000 and the other members $2,000.

The present commission is made up of two members from the legislature, John D. Barks and Edward Rosenstone, and three members appointed by Governor Walter T. Fisher: Kenneth Campbell and James A. Danaher. Fisher is a Republican.

Endurance Fliers Nearing Jinx Day

New Orleans, April 7.—(AP)—The two fliers in the "Suckast Lady" whirling toward a new air endurance record, served themselves for a feared "jinx day" tomorrow.

The red monoplane cruised to Beaumont, and San Angelo, Tex., today and will circle over El Paso tomorrow on their 24th day north.

It was on their 24th day last November when Bill Barnes and Ed A. Biedel of Fullerton, Calif., ended their first record try. They were going toward a new endurance record of 1,000 hours. They had to circle the globe in 720 hours.

"Black List" Stops Guernsey Drinking

St. Peter Port, Guernsey — (AP) — Guernsey men say the timest cure for drunkenness is the "black list."

That is simply a list of men—and women—who must not be served with alcoholic drinks on the 16,000 square mile island. And anyone disregarding it and selling or giving a drink to a listed person is liable to $20 fine or six months' imprisonment. It's a medieval punishment that works so well it's been preserved.

Chief Inspector John Hamer, of the Guernsey civil investigation department, said a man black listed for the last two years.

"It is impossible for me to get a drink on this island now. No one dares serve me and no one ever dreams of making me to have a drink."

Some are blacklisted voluntarily; others are listed in magistrates' orders for excessive drunkenness.

Those on the black list are photographed holding a black board on which is written his name and age and the period for which he is blacklisted. The sentence records that he is on the black list for a period varying from one year to life.

Then copies of the photograph are sent to every hotel and bar proprietor on the island. It must not be exhibited but every proprietor must keep it near his bar for quick reference.

The name "blimp" comes from the fact that English non-rigid balloons were known as "class blimp."

Chief Inspector John Hamer, of the Guernsey civil investigation department, said a man black listed for the last two years.

Princess Sculptured With Favorite Horse

London — (AP) — Princess Elizabeth and "Tommy", one of her favorite horses—have been sculptured in a gilded statuette.

Queen Elizabeth had it done for her personal collection of portraits of her heir-apparent daughter.

Doris Lindner, a sculptress noted for her models of horses, caught Elizabeth's likeness at sittings in Buckingham Palace. Later she worked frequently at the royal stables to catch Tommy's characteristics.

The equestrian statuette shows Elizabeth side saddle on Tommy, as she appeared as colonel of the Grenadier Guards at the King's birthday parade last June.

U. S. Teachers in Japan Not Paid

Tokyo — (AP) — Occupation personnel and dependents may give five lessons in oral English in Japanese schools, but must get military government approval to address parent-teacher associations or other Japanese educational organizations, the military government has decided.

Payment of any kind for teaching is forbidden, and it is recommended that no gifts be accepted, even of small value.

RAILWAY CROWDING

New Delhi — (AP) — Overcrowding in the lowest class carriages in Indian railways has come to "shameful" extent, said K. Santanam, minister of state for railways, in the legislative assembly. He gave these figures to explain the cause of overcrowding: "Passenger traffic had increased from 22 millions a month in 1939 to about 88 millions a month in 1948. The number of carriages, however, had decreased from 11,450 in 1939 to 10,650 in 1948."

Quits Linen Plant; Salvages U. S. Steel

Pueblo, Colo. — (AP) — Eugene Untermayer has made a long and successful jump from making tin linen in Bavaria to salvaging iron at Pueblo's steel mills.

The 63 year old man fled Germany with his family in 1939. He left behind one of Bavaria's largest linen plants which he'd owned for 19 years.

He tried selling linen in New York City to maintain his wife and two children. But at the suggestion of a friend he traveled westward to Colorado. The son was with the U. S. on troops in training at Camp Hale near Leadville.

Untermayer took a job at Pueblo with a New York metal salvage company. It was trying to recover metal from the slag dumps of the Manganese steel mills of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. The New York firm abandoned the work because it couldn't make a profit.

Untermayer decided to tackle the job himself. He obtained a contract from the CF&I and took in where other firms had failed. He is directing a big operation now in the recovery of the metal. The project involves the eventual working over of about 88 million of damps which are mountains of blast furnace slag.

Powder charges blast loose the material and four bulldozers push it aside in swaths while workmen pick over the abandoned scrap. Most of the recovered metal is in small pieces but some recovers a half ton. Trucks haul the accumulations to the steel mills where they are used with other scrap in the open hearth furnaces in making steel.

Untermayer speaks five languages and is an etymologist, an expert in the derivation of words. He is also a calligraphist.

POLICE COULD BE BANDITS

Manitoba, England — (AP) — Police officers just had to investigate when they spotted a young father, dressed with his girl in an anti-can.

In the class that ensued one got pushed off the running board of the anti-can.

"I can't know they were police. I thought they were bandits."

Good enough, said the court. Charged with assaulting and impairing the detectives, he was acquitted.

Salmon Loaf Is Budget Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

In reply to requests for a good salmon loaf recipe and from women who like to bake, for poppy seed rolls, here are two delicious answers:

Salmon Loaf

(Serves 4)

One 1-pound can salmon (or 2 cups any flaked, cooked or canned fish), 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 1 egg, 1 egg, well beaten, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 2 tablespoons melted fat.

Drain salmon, reserving liquor. Remove skin and bone and flake the fish. Combine with remaining ingredients and turn into greased loaf pan, 7 1/2 x 3 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 40 minutes, or until firm in center. Serve with a tasty hot sauce made by stirring 2 tablespoons catsup into 1 cup red wine sauce just before serving. Use the reserved salmon liquor as part of the milk in making the sauce. Note: If very dry bread crumbs are used, more milk will be needed to make a moist loaf.

Poppy Seed Whole Wheat Rolls

(Yield—about 7 dozen rolls)

Two packages granulated yeast, 1 cup lukewarm water, 2 cups scalded milk, cooled to lukewarm, 1/2 cup unsifted molasses, 2 teaspoons salt, 3 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour, 3 cups whole wheat flour, 1/2 cup shortening, melted, 2 tablespoons poppy seed.

Combine yeast and lukewarm water; let stand 5 minutes. Add lukewarm milk, molasses and salt. Combine enriched flour, whole wheat flour and poppy seed. Add 3 cups flour mixture and beat with a spoon until smooth and elastic (batter will fall from spoon in sheets). Beat in melted, cooled shortening. Gradually add remaining flour and work it in well. Turn onto lightly floured board, cover and let stand 10 minutes to relax dough.

Knead dough about 5 minutes. Shape into ball and place in greased bowl. Wipe bowl with dough to coat all sides with grease to prevent crust from forming. Cover. Let rise in warm place (80 degrees to 85 degrees F.) until double in bulk.

Knead dough a few seconds. Cover and let rest a few minutes. Shape into rolls. Place far apart on greased baking sheet. Brush tops with melted butter or fortified margarine. Let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.).

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Toast, a tomato, parsley omelet, bean nuturing, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Canned corn, corn, packaged quick-cooking rice, stewed apples, tea, milk.

DINNER: Salmon loaf, sauce, scalloped potatoes, baked acorn squash, poppy seed whole wheat rolls, butter or fortified margarine, celery and ripe olives, fresh fruit, lemon gelatin, coffee, milk.

sandwich and be two places at one time.

If a senator is not in the senate at roll call, he must be some place else. But it is a good place else how can the Record say he is in the senate?

Come in Later

Easy. He can come in later and get somebody else to mark him down as present at roll call when he wasn't present.

And that's what has happened because Barkley goes on and tells the senate.

"The chair realizes that the senate has grown up of playing the games of senators on the roll call and the clerk at the desk told the chair that sometimes the sheet is kept at the desk two or three hours after the roll call in order that senators who come in later may have their names in order."

But no more, Barkley says, unless a senator is some place on state business for a committee meeting.

Then he is really busy for the senate, Barkley says, and when he is rolling for a roll call he can't go to cash.

phone in and say "mark me present," and it's okay.

Here's the Reason

But no more of this stuff of getting yourself marked "not" when you're off some place or just get in late for work, says Barkley.

But why does it mean so much to a senator to get himself marked "present"? Because if any of the tolas back home are checking up on him to see if he read the record and see whether he's on the job.

Heavy Jap Lender Can't Pay Taxes!!

Tokyo, April 7—(AP)—The top money lender in Japan last year, the finance ministry said today, was money lender Masamitsu Moriwaki.

His income was estimated at 90,000,000 yen (about $22,500,000) last year.

But the ministry complained, he hasn't paid his taxes.

"I have loaned 150,000,000 yen to others," Moriwaki said "I have no cash."

'Greatest Show' on Earth Opens Season in N.Y.

New York, April 7—(AP)—There was the usual tension backstage at Madison Square Garden last night before the spotlight went on and the band struck up.

Slender young girls gave a nervous tug to their spangled costumes. A jangle of things that looked like bowling pins in a metal tunup.

A highwire acrobat held his partner flex her legs. A clown put just the right tilt to his puffy nose.

Then the huge blue, the performers' entrance to the arena opened and the greatest show on earth began its 74th season.

It was the 1949 opening for Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey circus.

A new crop of youngsters watched for the first time. Other young ones, grown gray, watched it as they have done for most of the opening performances.

Senators Mark Themselves 'Present' for Home-Folks

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 7—(AP)—It must be magic.

Vice President Barkley looks out over the senate. Not enough senators there. He orders the bells rung. All over the capitol senate bells ring.

Senators come skating in through the swinging doors and sit down. Barkley tells the clerk to call the roll.

There are 96 members of the senate and when the clerk gets through he says only 49 of them are present.

Barkley announces there are 49 senators present. Then the magic starts.

The next day the Congressional Record comes out and says that when the roll was called 89 senators were present. And it quotes Barkley as saying 89 were present.

This burns Barkley up. He knows what he said. He said only 49 were present.

So he gives the senate a large piece of his mind, dead serious. He says:

"The Record shows that 89 senators answered to their names and that the chair (meaning Barkley) had said that 89 senators had answered to their names."

It wasn't true. That was not true. The chair did not say there were 89 senators who answered to their names because it was not true, and the chair authorized nobody to change the record to make the chair say there were 89 senators present.

How come? A senator can't discipline himself in half like a ham.

6 Important QUESTIONS and ANSWERS ABOUT CELOBRIC... the Insulating Brick Siding Made by Celotex

Q. WHAT FAMOUS BUILDING MATERIAL MAKES CELOBRIC SUPERIOR TO ORDINARY BRICK SIDINGS?

A. Celobric is made from genuine Celotex Cane Fibre Insulation Board... a strong, rigid building material famous in the building industry for its exceptional structural strength, durability, and insulation value. Celotex manufactures the only cane fibre insulation board made in this country.

Q. WHAT EXCLUSIVE PROCESS PROTECTS CELOBRIC AGAINST DRY ROT AND TERMITES?

A. All Celotex cane fibre board products are protected by the exclusive (patented) Ferro Process, whereby every individual fibre is effectively protected against attack by dry rot and termites.

Q. WHAT GIVES CELOBRIC ITS BEAUTIFUL, PERMANENT COLOR?

A. Celobric is surfaced with rock-like mineral granules, selected for their rich coloring and specially treated to make them color-permanent. The granules are firmly imbedded... producing an attractive, rugged permanent finish.

Q. WHY DOES HOT OR COLD WEATHER HAVE NO EFFECT ON THE SPECIAL ASPHALTS USED IN CELOBRIC?

A. The asphalts used in Celobric are of the highest quality... specially treated to make them tough, durable and resistant to extreme temperatures. The hottest summers and coldest winters will have no ill effect on them.

Q. WHAT 3 HOME IMPROVEMENTS DOES CELOBRIC MAKE AT ONE COST?

A. (1) INSULATION... saves fuel and makes your home more comfortable the year 'round. (2) WEATHER PROTECTION... Celobric seals out weather, protecting the structure against damage from the elements. (3) EXTERIOR FINISH... permanent, beautiful, and never needs painting.

Q. HOW DOES CELOBRIC PAY FOR ITSELF?

A. Celobric saves painting and upkeep expense that ordinary siding requires. Celobric saves fuel. In a few years these combined savings more than pay for the cost of modernizing with celobric.

Lilies for Easter Table

Easter lilies, with tall candles, Lenox china, blue linen damask and pink rosebuds, beautify the table.

Lilies are always ideal for the Easter table. They are the symbol of Easter and should be arranged between white candle tapers. Repeat the lily motif with eggshell translucent Lenox china in Fairfield pattern with golden lilies on it. And to carry out the spring feeling, spread the table with pastel blue linen damask and arrange tiny pink rosebuds at each place.

Speaking of spring, how about a rhubarb upside down gingerbread? It's certainly different, is packed with nutrients and presents a beautiful appearance—all this and heavenly taste, too.

Rhubarb Upside Down Gingerbread
(Serves 9)

Three tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 2 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 1/2 cups raw, diced rhubarb, 1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup more molasses, 1 egg, unbeaten, 1/2 cup hot water. Melt butter or margarine in 9x9x2-inch pan. Add 2 table-spoons molasses and stir in 1/2 cup sugar until dissolved. Spread rhubarb uniformly over the mixture. Sift together flour, spices, salt, soda, and baking powder. Cream together shortening, sugar and molasses. Add 1/2 cup dry ingredients. Beat in egg.

Add remaining dry ingredients alternately with hot water. Pour batter over rhubarb. Bake 1 hour in moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Cool cake 15 minutes before removing from pan. Serve with chilled whipped cream, if desired.

Curried Ham Casserole
Three medium potatoes, 1 cup whole kernel corn, 2 slices boiled or baked ham cut 1/4 inch thick, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon curry powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon flour.
Peel and slice potatoes. Brown ham lightly. Place layer of potatoes on bottom of greased casserole. Top with slice of ham. Cover with corn and other slice of ham. Top with remaining potatoes. Mix milk, seasonings and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour.

HISTORIC FAKE CITED

Limerick, Erie—(AP)—The "Stone of the Broken Treaty," which many American tourists have photographed, is a historical phony, according to the Limerick city librarian, Richard Herbert.

For many years the stone, on a bridge in Limerick, has represented "the perjury of England." In 1691, legend has it, the stone marked the spot where King James and his Williamite followers signed a treaty which was broken by the English "before the ink on the document was dry."

"This hulk of stone is the greatest historical fake ever perpetrated," says Herbert.

He asserts there is a documentary evidence to prove that the treaty was signed in the camp of King William's army outside of Limerick, probably on a table

Education News Awards Planned

New York—(AP)—Four annual awards for education writing have been announced by the Education Writers Association.

The EWA, an organization of newspaper, magazine, radio and television education editors, will award plaques for a newspaper feature or series dealing with education; for a feature or series by a general magazine, radio, television or wire service; for the best article or series interpreting education in a newspaper; for the best newspaper editorial.

The first three awards will go to individual education writers, and the fourth to a newspaper.

Newspapers or individual writers may make nominations. Deadline for entries was March 1. Winners will be announced in April.

Judges are Dr. Floyd Taylor, director, American Press Institute, Columbia University; Hal Boyle, The Associated Press; Dr. Belmont Farley, National Education Association; Dr. G. Kerry Smith, U. S. Office of Education; Dr. Harold Taylor, President, Sarah Lawrence College.

ANCIENT MACHINE DOES JOB

Sydney, Australia—(AP)—By using an ancient Sydney clock can answer in less than 20 seconds a question like what is 12 1/2 percent of $262.46.

An abacus is a counting frame with colored beads strung on wires. It was used by the Romans, Egyptians, Greeks and Romans and still is used in China. The Sydney clock, Mr. C. T. Browne, says, is placed at his job and claims it reduces his work considerably.

In a test he had photographs of figure numbers on each other and checked the answers. Then, using another clock, called an arithmetic, could not do the answer.

Underground Bands Active in Poland

Warsaw, Poland—(AP)—Gen. Franciszek Jozwiak, commander-in-chief of the Polish militia, reported underground bands killed 122 volunteer militiamen in the last three years.

Jozwiak said the citizens' volunteer militia reserve, generally known as "Ormo", included among its membership 84,000 peasants and workers.

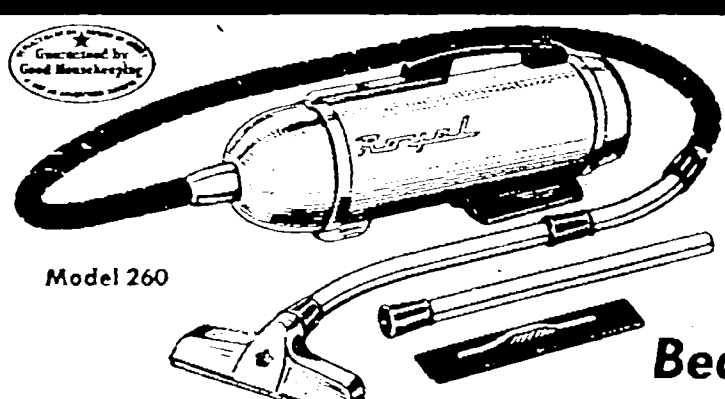

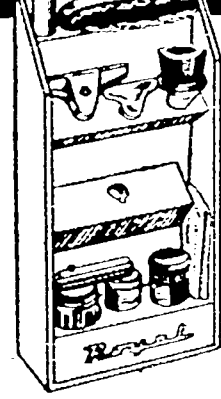

The militiamen killed lost their lives in battling underground bands preceding the national referendum in Poland on June 30, 1946, and the general parliamentary elections on Jan. 19, 1947.

The "Ormo" also was widely used in 1945 to smash illegal distilleries of vodka. A total of 860 manure stills were seized by the militia.

Bishop and Minister in Court Fight

New York, April 7.—(AP)—The first round in an Episcopal minister's court battle to retain his pulpit in defiance of his bishop's order has ended in a draw.

State Supreme Court Justice Alfred V. Norton clamped restraining orders yesterday on both sides in the controversy, and set trial for April 18—the day after Easter.

Pending the trial, the judge directed:

1. That the Protestant Episcopal bishop of Long Island take no further steps to oust 74-year-old Rev. Dr. John Howard Melish as rector of Holy Trinity church in Brooklyn.
2. That neither Dr. Melish nor his congregation act further to remove nine vestrymen who originally petitioned the bishop for Melish's ouster.

The bitter church battle resulted from the "outside activities" of the rector's son and assistant, the Rev. William Howard Melish.

The son formerly was chairman of the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, and now is a member of its board. The organization is an Attorney General Tom Clark's subversive list.

On Monday, Bishop James P. De Wolfe, of the Long Island Episcopal diocese, announced the "canonical dissolution" of all ties between Dr. Melish and the church where he has been rector 45 years.

But Dr. Melish said he would go ahead with plans for conducting Palm Sunday services this weekend, and would wait for the supreme court to decide if he can be ousted.

Seek Treasure in New Mexico Cave

Hot Springs, N. M., April 7.—(AP)—A miner's widow is hunting a hidden cave which she believes may contain a vast treasure in gold and jewels.

She is Mrs. Ova E. Noss of Hot Springs. It was her estranged husband, M. E. (Doc) Noss, who told of finding the cave by accident 11 years ago.

He told his wife he removed several metal ingots and jewels and then blocked the vertical hole in a blast attempt to widen it.

The war interrupted his work. Noss was shot to death March 5. His financial backer, Charlie Ryan of Alice, Tex., is charged with murder. Ryan testified upon arraignment that he had objected to Noss' using Ryan's trucks for "illegal" activities.

Mrs. Noss' prospecting permit has just been extended. She says her late husband and Ryan had sought a permit for the site but found she already had obtained one.

Noss told of finding many black bars "stacked like cordwood," each weighing 40 to 70 pounds.

"It was yellow under the black when we cut it with a knife," Mrs. Noss gave.

The state bureau of mines says there is undoubtedly a large cavern thereabouts in the San Andres mountains of south central New Mexico.

But secret service agent Jim Hirst of Albuquerque has a bar found among Noss' effects which he says "definitely is not gold."

Production By Reds Is Praised By Soviet Press

Berlin, April 7.—(AP)—The official organ of the Soviet army here today claimed eastern Europe had not produced the United States in the last three years of the war and could do so again.

The Red army Tagliche Rundschau made the claim in an article attempting to deflate "propaganda claims of the Washington aggressors about the strength of their warfront compared to the Soviet peacefront."

The article also said Russia and its allies could marshal more and better soldiers than the west.

The gist of the article was a warning to the Atlantic pact nations that they were mistaken if they thought they could depend on the United States to arm them.

Listing alleged production figures which Rundschau said were higher than those achieved in the United States, the paper asserted the marks were made "despite the fact the Germans were occupying 63 per cent of our coal production, 58 per cent of steel production and 60 per cent of our aluminum capacity."

Paulette Goddard Leaves for Mexico

Hollywood, April 7.—(AP)—Paulette Goddard will leave by plane tonight for Mexico City, but not, her secretary says, to file a divorce against Burgess Meredith.

The film couple recently announced they had separated.

Miss Goddard has accepted an invitation to be honor guest at a Mexico City bull fight on Easter Sunday.

der, with a chorus of 60 voices from the choirs of these cooperating groups.

This well-known cantata recalls the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth and is especially suitable for the opening of Holy Week.

The director for this choral work will be Crawford Thomas, organist and director at the First Methodist church, and the organist will be Miss Naomi Wolf, organist and director at St. Luke's Episcopal church.

Soloists will be James Patterson, baritone, and William J. Tonkin, tenor. Mr. Patterson is well known in Dixon, having been active in music circles since first coming to Dixon in 1946 with the Raynor Mfg. Co., with which he is associated. He was a pupil of Richard B. DeYoung in Chicago, and has had much experience in church and choral work.

Mr. Tonkin is a graduate of St. Olaf School of Music and a former member of the world-renowned St. Olaf Choir under F. Melius Christensen. He also graduated from the music conservatory at the University of Pennsylvania, and has appeared as soloist at Ridley Park summer concerts in Philadelphia, and was tenor soloist on the Cul-

Cost of Farm Equipment Is At a New High

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—The cost of buying and equipping a farm of adequate size is at a record level, the agriculture department said today.

Farm product prices on the other hand, are about 15 per cent below the record reached in January, 1948.

The department said the price of land, machinery and other equipment is higher than ever before.

Operating Costs Up—Farm wage rates, after advances of six per cent last year, may be up a little in some areas this year, the department said. Prices of many farm products are slightly lower, though a few costs—such as lumber—may be down.

of livestock feed—will be lower than last year.

As a result, the cost to the individual farmer will be affected by the type of farm he is operating. While livestock feeders may do better than a year ago, other farmers probably will be faced with higher costs.

For the country as a whole, farmers' total costs may be around 5 per cent lower than last year, the department said. The department said farm costs lagged behind both rising and declining farm prices.

Incomes To Be Up—Despite the current prospects for high costs and lower prices, net incomes will be sufficiently high, the agency said to allow many farmers to improve their financial positions.

Farm wage rates, after advances of six per cent last year, may be up a little in some areas this year, the department said. Prices of many farm products are slightly lower, though a few costs—such as lumber—may be down.

Hal Tells How Our Youth Is Lost, and Something Gained

By HAL BOYLE

New York. — (AP) — It is something to see a girl of 19 turn into a young lady in ten minutes.

Only one thing can cause that—a sudden realization on her part that there is more to life than she has known.

I had a small part in such a drama the other day. Frances and I helped a neighbor and over one of those emotional hurdles by which people grow up.

It was something to remember. And for us the experience held a little bonus of gladness merely because we were there in a strange experience of terror and beauty to the girl—and shared it with her.

I was waiting on the sidewalk in midtown when the cab rolled up with Frances and our neighbor. Neither rushed for her purse to pay the hack—want women does when a man's hands to carry out his duty. Frances and I looked over the cab. The cabman winked at the girl, and not a blank look back.

Smile of Confidence
We walked together into the big building—two ladies and a watchdog. The girl put her hand in mine and gave me a small smile. Frances had had a similar life. If she suspected the cabman ahead, she gave no sign.

As quickly as possible we moved by elevator to the fifth floor. We came into a long room full of strange furniture and men in strange clothes.

A sudden cloud burst of doubt sailed across the girl's face. My heart sank a little, too, for I wasn't sure just what lay ahead either. The whole mission must have been abandoned right there except for Frances. Women always have the courage in an emergency.

"Don't be afraid," said Frances. "Come on. This way you two look you'd think somebody was going to be murdered."

Well, I felt murder was a possibility—if anything happened to that girl.
The next moment she was seated in a chair, and one of the strange men was coming at her with a sharp instrument. The girl looked tensely ahead of her—and saw her own tense face staring back from a mirror.

Nina, our Godchild, at the ripe old age of 19 months was about to get her first department store haircut.

As the scissors snipped off a bright blonde lock, her face wrinkled and she let out a cry—the immemorial feminine wail over loss.

Immediately a small boy, freshly clipped, ran over. "The probably thinks it's a bug crawling up the back of her neck, and pump to bite her," he said or guessed.

The Tears Stop
Nina sat down at him. The tears stopped at once and she gave him the smile with which Clara had entrusted Mark. And then—

We flew up a hallway for Nina and I capitulated for the work. A girl—snap, snap—and the blonde treasure gave the floor a golden glitter.

When the ordeal was over, Nina looked at the hairdresser, arms of the cabman and then to a good-looking man who smiled with the girl.

She started like a broadsword when she saw her to the two men. She sat with a tiny, round, smiling face, and she looked at a velvet curtain.

I put the girl's hand into a cab and Nina moved her goodbyes and a camera flash using an old lady. That night she tossed in bed, her faithful attendant and went to sleep hugging her new night.

In one day Nina had won a boy—that had her first haircut and abandoned an old toy. She would never be so young again. And neither would her Godfather.

Con Con Proposal Up Next Wednesday

Springfield, Ill., April 7—(AP)—The Illinois house will vote next Wednesday, on calling a state constitutional convention, Rep. James J. Ryan of Chicago, Democratic majority leader, announced today.

A passage roll call had been scheduled yesterday but was postponed by Ryan because too many members were absent and the Democratic state administration needs all the support it can muster.

The resolution provides for voters to decide in a 150 referendum whether to have a convention rewrite the 79 year old state charter. Governor Stevenson says the present constitution blocks good government.

House and senate approval is required for adoption of the resolution.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

ONE WINDOW WITHOUT WEATHER STRIPPING LETS IN 2600 CUBIC FEET OF AIR (INCLUDING DUST, DIRT AND SOOT) PER HOUR, DAY OR NIGHT.

WHY NOT LET AIRTITE WEATHERSTRIP YOUR HOME TODAY ---

SIX REASONS FOR AN AIRTITE INSTALLATION

- 1 MAXIMUM EFFICIENCY Tests by the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers in connection with the University of Wisconsin prove that weatherstripping is the most efficient type of weatherstripping.
- 2 PERMANENT PROTECTION. Unlike the use of AIRTITE INTERLOCKING WEATHERSTRIPPING allows adjustment to maintain maximum efficiency regardless of changing conditions.
- 3 YEAR-ROUND INSTALLATION POSSIBLE. AIRTITE INTERLOCKING WEATHERSTRIPPING is installed without moving the windows which allows installation without discomfort during the winter months.
- 4 NO SURGICAL OPERATION ON BUILDING. Elimination of need to remove windows during installation removes the possibility of damage to windows or interior painting.
- 5 WINDOW STICKING REDUCED. Window sticking is generally caused by exterior painting. AIRTITE INTERLOCKING WEATHERSTRIPPING covers most of the working surfaces and eliminates sticking at these points.
- 6 MOISTURE CONTROL FOR STORM SASH. AIRTITE INTERLOCKING WEATHERSTRIPPING reduces the amount of warm, humid air which ordinarily passes around the edges of the regular window and condenses on the interior surface of the storm sash. This moisture must be controlled to prevent window rot.

Citrus Cuts Down Calories

What with Easter fashions making women of all ages more than ordinarily conscious of their figures, diets will creep into everyone's mind during the next few weeks. No better basic food for this purpose, than vitamin-rich, low-calorie Florida citrus fruits, for salads, fruit cups, juices and snacks.

When it comes to counting calories, you can count Florida grapefruit and oranges among your best allies. They furnish flavor, variety, and worlds of Vitamin C to maintain good health and help build up resistance, but their calorie count is so low you'll be tempted for more reasons than one to include them in every meal of the day in place of fattening foods.

How to Section Grapefruit for Salads and Fruit Cups

Chill fruit before preparing. To section, cut off peel in strips from top to bottom, cutting deep enough to remove white membrane. Then cut slice from top and bottom. Go over fruit again removing any remaining white membrane. Cut along side of each dividing membrane from outside to middle of core. Remove section by section, over bowl, to retain juice from fruit. If desired, sections may be sprinkled lightly with sugar.

Fruit Medley

Arrange Florida grapefruit sections on salad greens with melon balls and sliced strawberries or cherries. Garnish with watercress. Serve with French dressing.

King-in-Spring Salad

Make individual tomato aspic ring molds. Unmold and fill centers with Florida grapefruit sections. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Cottage Cheese Chatter

Arrange Florida grapefruit sections on salad greens. Add scoop of cottage cheese to which onion juice or chopped chives have been added. Serve with French dressing.

Spring Beauty

Alternate Florida orange and grapefruit sections on salad greens. Pile small grapes at side. Garnish with mint. Serve with French dressing made with Florida grapefruit juice.

Inventor Claims Defense by Battery

Offenbach, Germany (AP) — A German inventor claims you can beat off a hold-up man with a flashlight battery. Fritz Harbach of Offenbach got the idea because weapons and firearms are strictly taboo for the Germans.

The inventor's device consists of a four volt flashlight battery, a small transformer and contact plate serves as a "shock transmitter," emitting 1,000 volts. How the inventor generates the 1,000 volts from a four-volt flashlight battery is "my own secret," he said. Electricians, however, claim it is a very elementary process.

A light touch with the "shock transmitter" is sufficient to floor any attacker, Herr Harbach said. He had his invention tested by the German police and they found it to be an "excellent self-protection instrument". The battery and

New Twist in Pretzel Puts Machine Age on a 'Bender'

New York.—There's a new twist in pretzels these days.

The curvaceous biscuit, historically bent into its famous shape by a few flips of a talented worker's wrists, is now being shaped by a machine.

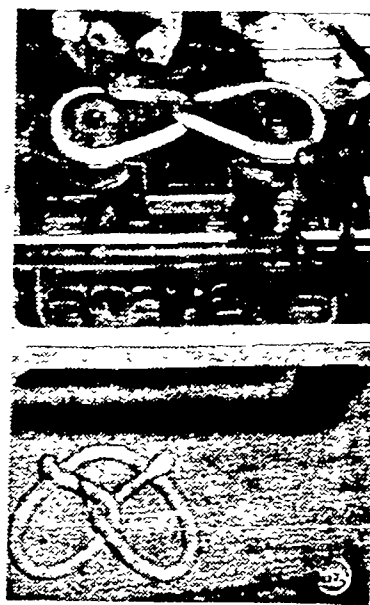

Both the human method and its mechanical counterpart perform the same operation. They pick up a "stick" of dough, previously rolled into the correct width and cut into the correct length, and deftly knot it into its pretzish form.

But, where a human can twist only about 20 a minute (the winner of a recent pretzel-twisting championship did 11) the machine can turn out 55 twisted pretzels a minute without bailing a cog-wheel.

The automatic pretzel machine has two steel arms with clamp "fingers" at the ends. These fingers grip the dough stick, and, with one quick motion, a neatly-knotted pretzel is born.

After that, the pretzel goes through the normal childhood and adolescence of any pretzel. It is carried through a saline solution, which seals the dough and enables it to have its familiar nut-brown color. Then it's salted and baked.

The mechanical bender was in-

Mechanized pretzel bender: Everything but the thumbprint.

vented 20 years ago by Earl Curcus of Cleveland, but it took a long time to get it perfected.

Like the human counterpart, it leaves its mark on the pretzel, but you can tell the difference. Human pretzel benders leave the dent of their thumbs on the pretzel "knot," the machine, having no thumbs, leaves the imprint of mechanical fingers.

Here's Helpful Hannah Talking

To vary spinach cook, chop and season it with grated onion, salt and freshly ground pepper; then mix it with buttered steamed rice and serve very hot as a accompaniment to a meat dish.

"Parsley potatoes," often called for on menus are made by boiling small new potatoes in salted water, in their skins. When the potatoes are cooked they should be peeled and mixed with melted butter and finely minced parsley.

Leftover chicken soup may be stretched with a can of cream style corn and enough salt and pepper to season well. Serve with a light sprinkling of paprika or chopped parsley or a sprig of watercress.

Flavor of simple confectioners' sugar icing with a little almond extract for cupcakes and garnish with chopped nutmeats.

To make a quick frosting for a plain white cake mix three table-spoons of butter or margarine and mix well with a half cup of brown sugar and a cup of moist shredded coconut; spread mixture on an eight or nine-inch cake and broil carefully until coconut is lightly browned.

Creamed eggs are delicious served on split ham biscuits for a Sunday night supper dish. To make the biscuits use the standard baking powder recipe calling for two cups flour and add half a cup of finely chopped cooked ham to the dry ingredients before the liquid is added.

You can usually count on a pound of fresh shrimp to make a main dish to serve three when it is coupled with a circle of curried sauce; if the shrimp is to be used for a first-course cocktail a pound will serve four easily.

Spring salads are delicious served with sour cream instead of the usual dressing. Try lettuce, green onions and thin cucumber slices this way. Season the salad with salt and lots of freshly ground pepper.

For a company hors-d'oeuvres course to cooler shrimp in French dressing flavored with garlic salt.

Add chopped chutney to mayon-naise or a cream-vinegar salad dressing and serve over wedges of iceberg lettuce.

To stretch leftover chicken use it in a loaf, serve it with a mushroom sauce.

Excellent for fish is a cream sauce flavored with finely grated onion, just a dash of sugar and minced parsley.

In making tea always allow the leaves to steep three to five minutes as soon as it is steeped pour into cups or into another teapot.

Keeping a loaf of bread in the refrigerator will help to prevent molding.

Guests usually enjoy buffet sup-pers more if individual tables, or card tables, are provided so that they can sit comfortably after they have served themselves. If the main buffet table is not a large one the silver for the dessert need not be placed until the dessert itself is brought in.

New fabric colors for spring stress jewel-like colors. Amethyst, gold, garnet, emerald, sapphire and coral offer sparkling backgrounds to modern and traditional fabrics.

State Reformatory Legislation passes

Springfield, Ill., April 24 (AP) — The Illinois state reformatory bill passed a full appropriation $2,000,000 to set up a state reformatory for youthful offenders at Joliet.

The bill was introduced by a 44-year-old legislator from the 14th district, a part of a program drawn by the Juvenile Court Board of Cook County and led by Charles Thomas.

Under the bill, youths between 10 and 21 convicted of a felony would be sent to the proposed reformatory.

TO CUT WINDOW LIGHTING

Hamburg, Germany (AP) — Because of the criticism of the British community for German shopkeepers have been ordered to cut down their window lighting and signs.

Britons pointed to the difference between austere Britain, where electricity is severely rationed, and Hamburg where shop window lights were left on all night for display and the whole city had come out in a rash of neon signs.

A British official statement said the shops and signs used only one-half of one per cent of the total Hamburg load. The city was actually exporting one-third of its electricity production and planning to export more, the statement added.

A Peach Cream Dessert

School, church, or community get-togethers are a treasured American custom, but frequently pose problems in connection with preparation of food in quality and service. Food that can be made and served in paper containers, completely sanitary and low in cost, means that the dinner committee members will enjoy the functions too. This menu is easy to handle—baked beans, frankfurters, tossed salad, rolls, coffee, and a gelatin dessert made and served in attractive paper cups. Here is the recipe for:

Peach Cream Dessert

1 No. 2 1/2 can cling peaches
1/2 cup syrup from peaches
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup lemon juice

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tall can evaporated milk, icy cold

1 cup chocolate cookie crumbs

Drain peaches; reserve 10 peach slices or two halves to be sliced for garnish. Dice remaining peaches. Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup syrup; place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat; add sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Mix in lemon juice and rind; chill until the mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Whip chilled evaporated milk until stiff; beat in gelatin mixture; fold in diced peaches. Turn whipped mixture into 5-ounce paper containers. Sprinkle with cookie crumbs. Chill until firm. Garnish with peach slices. YIELD: 10 servings.

Poses As Blind Man to Get Room; Ousted

Chicago, April 7—(AP)—A 63-year-old man left the Cook county hospital yesterday but he decided it was not necessary for his guide dog to lead him.

The man, James McGovern, went to the hospital Tuesday—led by his dog—and asked treatment for minor face bruises. He said he had been beaten.

Hospital authorities didn't want to turn a "blind" man away, so they gave him a bed and let the dog sleep beneath it.

Yesterday McGovern was seen to flip a cigarette with unerring aim into a refuse can. An investigation disclosed McGovern was not blind. His dog also was an imposter. McGovern said he just wanted a place to stay. But he promptly was discharged as a patient.

DeKalb GE Workers to Decide on Union

Chicago, April 7—(AP)—Tool-room employees of the General Electric Co., DeKalb, Ill., will vote before May 4 to determine whether or not a union may represent them.

The election was ordered yesterday by the National Labor Relations board, which was petitioned for representation of the workers by the AFL International Association of Machinists, Dist. 101.

Curiosity Made This Cat Very Hungry

Kankakee, Ill., April 7—(AP)—Sandy's curiosity didn't kill him, but it made him hungry.

Sandy, as curious as the next cat, looked into the mysteries of a car owned by his master, Harm Heiland, of Kankakee, Ill. He got trapped in a pocket formed by the framework of the automobile. The only opening was a hole three inches square.

Heiland got to searching for his eight-month-old cat after missing him for three days and traced Sandy to the car.

Three mechanics removed the car's muffler and exhaust to set Sandy free yesterday. The cat was unhurt—but, Heiland said, mighty hungry.

ONE FUNERAL DELAYED

Hamburg, Germany—(AP)—A woman's corpse lay for two months in the morgue at Schwelm because of a mix-up over her funeral, the German magazine "Neue Illustrierte" reported. The body was in a coffin believed to be empty.

The woman's adopted daughter did nothing about the funeral because she thought her nephew had seen to it. The nephew thought it had been arranged by the adopted daughter.

JOHN BULL BETTER BE GOOD

Chatham, Eng.—(AP)—John Bull was fined $5 for not paying his train fare. He's a chief petty officer in the navy.

Another Austere Year for Britain

London, April 7—(AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's apostle of austerity, apparently rode out a storm of criticism from the left today over his national budget prescribing another lean year for the British people.

There had been some speculation that Sir Stafford might offer to resign if the party did not express satisfaction with his budget and his arguments for it.

The budget means higher food prices and steeper tax rates for Britain's 50,000,000.

New 1,600 MPH Plane Nearing Completion

New York, April 7—(AP)—Development of a rocket engine that may carry aircraft at the unprecedented speed of more than 1,600 miles an hour is nearing completion.

The Curtiss-Wright Corp. is building the power unit for a new jet-propelled plane, the X-2, which is said to be designed to fly faster than any known aircraft.

The firm announced yesterday that work on the power unit is in its final stages at its Caldwell, N. J., plant.

This Glaze 'Makes' Ham

Spiced honey glaze adds appeal to Easter ham

A fragrant baked ham is a tradition in this country. But why not sweeten tradition a little and give that ham a spiced honey glaze?

First let's plan a menu that is not too complicated but does achieve a desirable result.

Easter Menu: Glazed ham, baked green beans with tiny white onions, mixed green salad, creamed potatoes, lettuce and green peppers, French dressing, not happy seed roll, butter or margarine, lemon sherbet, coffee or milk.

Baked Ham With Spiced Honey Glaze

Wipe ham with clean cloth

Bake in moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.) allowing 15 minutes per pound for hams 12 pounds or over; 18 minutes per pound for hams under 12 pounds; 22 minutes per pound for half hams. Count on 1/2 pound of ham per person.

One-half hour before ham is done, remove ham from oven. Carefully skin off rind and cut fat in diamond or square design with sharp knife. Insert whole cloves in each square. Cover with glaze and bake one-half hour longer, basting several times with glaze and ham juices in bottom of pan.

Spiced Rasin Sauce

(Makes about 2 cups)

One-third cup finely packed brown sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 cup boiling water, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1/4 cup seedless raisins, 1 tablespoon butter.

Mix dry ingredients, add water and vinegar, gradually stirring well. Simmer slowly until thickened, stirring constantly. Add raisins and cook 2 minutes longer or until raisins are plump. Add butter.

Easter Lily Flowers for garnish. Slice turnips very thin, roll as you would a corn-cake, slice, carrot slice in center and surround with water-cress. Use a toothpick to hold the turnip together.

Old Violin Secrets Believed Found

Rome (AP) — A 35-year-old researcher who started making violins as a pastime while he was a prisoner of war in Africa thinks he may have rediscovered some of the lost secrets of Italy's great craftsmen of the past.

At any rate, the instruments that Franco Pozzo has been turning out in his tiny shop on Rome's Aventine Hill are increasingly in demand among professional musicians.

With age, the knowing say, they may even compare favorably with the violins the Amati, Stravari and Guarneri put together centuries ago.

Pozzo, short, stocky, swarthy, mustached and modest—himself makes no such claims, merely expressing belief that his experiments with new formulas for varnish have developed something better than modern Italian violin-makers are using.

Although he has unfilled orders, Pozzo expects to sail soon for Buenos Aires. An application he made long ago to emigrate to Argentina, where he has relatives, has just been approved. He expects to continue his trade in his homeland.

Of the 110 aircraft carriers operated in the Pacific during World War II, none were sunk by land-based aircraft.

Snakes crawl by moving their bodies in lateral motions, never in vertical undulations, as frequently pictured.

Buffalo horns have annual growth rings, like trees.

Frozen-Fruit Tarts

RECIPE: Combine 2 cups frozen fresh fruit—raspberries, peaches, pineapple, strawberries, or your family's favorite—with 1/2 cup sugar. Let stand 15 minutes. Then put fruit into 8 tart shells made from your own pastry recipe, or prepared mix. Dot each fruit-filled tart with a spoonful of sweetened whipped cream flavored with vanilla. (Fresh or canned fruits may also be used but should be sweetened to taste.)

Fresh, Fragrant Coffee

There's fresh delight in every cup of Hills Bros. Coffee—for its fragrance and flavor are rich and delicious. It's a full-bodied, distinguished blend of the finest coffees obtainable—and "Controlled Roasting," an exclusive Hills Bros. process, roasts the blend a little at a time—continuously—for flavor perfection. Hills Bros. Coffee is vacuum-packed to assure delicious freshness in every pound.

Mexico in Study of Railway Program

The Mexican government has conducted extensive studies of a proposal to build a ten-track railroad to carry ships across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

Modesto C. Rolland, director of free ports of Mexico recently described the project to American maritime and engineering experts in a talk at the Commerce Department in Washington.

The Mexican government has not yet authorized construction. But Rolland says it is being seriously considered. Foreign capital, he said, would be needed.

Mexican engineers have estimated the cost at several hundred million dollars. If a canal were dug in the same area, narrowest part of Mexico, at the southern extremity of the country, it would cost several billions.

Ships up to 55,000 tons would be floated from a lock into a rectangular basin on wheels. This basin would proceed across the isthmus under its own power. It would be jointed—built in sections connected with flexible material—so that it could move on slightly curved tracks.

The apparatus has been dubbed a "decavia," meaning "ten-track." United States engineers have made cursory studies of such a project for this government. They rejected it before going into the matter exhaustively because they considered it impracticable. The enormous weights, pressures and tensions involved would be unprecedented, they said, concluding that the success of such a project was inconceivable.

GHOST ROUGH ON CATS
Singapore (AP) — Cats disappear mysteriously in a Singapore bungalow haunted by a headless ghost.

Within five months nine babies have vanished from the dwelling house. They depart every time the headless apparition comes roaming through the corridors in the wee hours of the morning.

The bungalow's dwellers have not been scared into moving. There's a housing shortage.

Shrimp as Main Course

Shrimp and vegetable dinner—ideal meatless dish.

During Lent, the hunt for interesting and easy to prepare fish and sea food main dishes goes on. Tasty, novelty good cuttings are necessary in any family recipe. That's why the following will be welcome.

Shrimp and Vegetable Dinner
(Serves 6)

One recipe including powder biscuits, 3 cups medium cream sauce, 2 onions, 1/2 cup butter, 1 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 1 cup carrots, cooked and diced, 1 cup peas, cooked, 2 cups shrimp, fresh, cooked or canned.

Prepare baking powder biscuit dough. Cut out biscuits and set aside. Brown onion in butter until tender but not brown. Add onion to white sauce. Add carrots, peas and shrimp. Pour mixture into casserole or baking dish or biscuits on top. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) 15 to 20 minutes.

utes, or until firm, in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.).

Kudgeres

Two cups flaked smoked fish (tunnies haddock or smoked cod), 2 cups fluffy cooked rice, 4 chopped, hard-cooked eggs, 1/2 cup butter or fortified margarine, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, salt to taste.

Combine all ingredients and heat in the top of a double boiler.

DEATH NOTICES CENSORED
Berlin — (AP) — The Russians have imposed censorship on death notices and grave markers in their zone of Germany, according to press reports from Saxony.

This censorship, announced through the Communist Department of the Interior, concerns death notices of German prisoners of war repatriated from Russia.

A German press service reports that, in Saxony, relatives of ex-PW's who die are or large numbers of them are forbidden to publish death notices, and that the graves of the dead must contain no reference to the cause of death or to the fact that the deceased had been in Russia. It adds that about 20,000 Saxons in confinement

Our Troops in Europe Will Help Make Pact 'Effective'

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Having signed the 12-nation Atlantic defense pact we immediately come up against the uncomfortable but unavoidable question of how it is to be implemented if there is aggression.

We have part of our answer in blunt Army day addresses by high brass from our military establishment. With a unanimity which could only be inspired, they made it crystal clear that American troops must be stationed in Europe so long as the cold war lasts.

Does that shock you? Well, it shouldn't, though it certainly is a disturbing thought. There's no use building a handsome automobile body if you don't have an engine in it. An Atlantic alliance without backing would be just so many senseless words which would have the hollow sound of hammering on an empty rain barrel.

Secretary of the Army Royal put it like this in Chicago:

A Prolonged War

"We could not win a world war in a matter of days or weeks or months. Nor in the foreseeable future could we achieve victory by standing on our shores and throwing rocks or rockets or anything else across the seas."

Royal, and other high military officials, warned that America can't afford to let European ground forces bear the brunt of any lightning attack on the continent. The secretary said the Atlantic pact nations are banking on an American army overseas, and also on U. S. equipment for their own fighting forces.

"The supply of equipment is said to be one of Washington's immediate objectives," he declared. The U. S. A. has the best army in its history, but:

"If in the first stage of any future war we should lose all foot hold on the Eurasian continent and in north Africa, then victory is achieved at all would require 10, or 20 years of war or perhaps more."

Gen. Omar Bradley, army chief of staff speaking in New York City, also reported any idea that in case of attack, European ground forces should bear the brunt while the United States devoted its initial efforts to air strikes. And he pointed out that "at present the balance of military power is centered in the United States."

Peace-time Chores

As a matter of fact, since we must maintain a big standing army anyway, there is no special hardship involved in having some of it stationed in Europe. Actually it would be a valuable peace-time assignment for our men educationally. And, of course, their presence would be calculated to lessen the chances of war.

Secretary Royal said he didn't believe war was imminent, and that he didn't mean his talk to sound warlike. However he thought the best way to prevent hostilities is to let it be known that America is ready for them.

That's a thought which it may be useful to carry a step further. If there is war it won't be because of the Atlantic pact but despite it. The pact is expected by the strategists to be a powerful deterrent of war. Thus it may become the nucleus for creating a more satisfactory spirit.

We can't rule out the possibility that, once it is clear the cold war is at a stalemate in Europe, the east and west may be able to solve some of their differences.

I LAUGH AT CHRONIC MASTITIS*

Because I know of the Beebe G-LAC treatment that can be given in one minute.

My boss doesn't use a syringe. He uses the new Beebe G-LAC tube. The ease it inserted tip gives me no discomfort and before me I get relief. I know he does not have to keep it in the refrigerator. He does not need to warm the tube. He knows that authorities agree Beebe G-LAC (tyrothricin) is the most efficient treatment known.

The Beebe G-LAC remains active in my udder for days. Only one of my milkings needs to be discarded and that can be fed to the calves.

Remember one out of four of us has mastitis. He tests my udder and me regularly with Beebe Test Pads. He gets them free at the store with the Beebe Bull's Eye on the door.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

God be thanked for that good and perfect gift, the gift unspeakable: His life, His love, His very self in Jesus Christ.—Maltbie Babcock.

Second-Class Postal Increase Might Damage Public Interest

When congress instituted the low second-class mail rate for newspapers and periodicals some 70 years ago, the main purpose was not to subsidize the publishers. It was argued at the time that the subsidy would make it possible for the reader to get news and information at a more reasonable cost.

That argument came to mind as we looked at an article in the current issue of Collier's magazine. The article appeared, by chance, as congress was considering an increase in the second-class rate. It consisted of 101 questions and answers on cancer, prepared by the American Cancer Society from hundreds of questions put to the society and family doctors by laymen, and timed to coincide with Cancer Control Month.

The article ran four pages, and it cost the Cancer Society nothing. But if the society had undertaken to mail out those four pages to the public that the magazine reaches (about 3,000,000 circulation) the bill would have been considerable, even without printing costs. If the cost of paper and envelopes, addressing and mailing (unsealed and third class) was 4 cents each, that would be $120,000.

If the society had bought the same four pages at the magazine's advertising rate the price might have been close to one-third of the mailing cost. And if it had dressed its information up in color, as Collier's did, the bill would have been even bigger.

In other words, from $40,000 to $120,000 might have been diverted from cancer research, perhaps, or some other vital activity in the same field to give the public the answers to its most frequent questions about the disease.

What has all this to do with mail rates? Two things, it seems to us. One is that the article in question is typical of the public service that newspapers and magazines have given the public through the years at a very moderate cost. That is not to say that this particular kind of service is a daily or weekly or monthly feature of any publication. But it does illustrate a general type of service. And it happened along at an opportune time to emphasize a point.

The other connection with mail rates is that this type of service would not come to the public so cheaply with a postal increase. Many if not most publications would have to raise their subscription rates—and absorb a loss in the meantime, if an increase was made effective immediately. Some smaller periodicals might be driven out of business.

The Reader's Digest has revealed that its present mailing cost is less than a half-cent and its profit a little over a half-cent a copy. Its new rate would raise the mailing charge by 2.1 cents a copy. The Crowell-Collier publications figure that their new rate would cost them $5,000,000 a year. The company's net profit last year was approximately $2,500,000. And so on.

It seems to us that the Post Office Department, in the interest of fairness and good bookkeeping, might deduct the cost of sending millions of pieces of free government mail all over the country and then see how much of its annual deficit is traceable to the second-class subsidy.

Congress might also examine the recommendations of the Hoover Commission for the Post Office Department and consider how they might help reduce operating expenses. We have a feeling that if these things were done, any necessary increase might be more bearable and more in keeping with the interests of publishers and public.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Osteomyelitis Is Bone Disease; New Drugs Help

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Osteomyelitis is a disease of the bones in which dangerous germs destroy the bone and cause pus to form.

In the sixteenth century, severe cases were usually treated by amputation. Repulsive applications such as crushed body lice, incinerated loads, oriental herbs, molting oil, powders made from Egyptian mummies, oil of roses, turpentine or mixture of egg yolk were frequently used.

The many surgical treatments used over the years were all aimed at destroying or removing the dead bone and pus and allowing the new pus which was formed to drain to the surface. Ingenious instruments for boring into the bone and scraping out all of the infected material have been devised.

MANY TREATMENTS
One of the most interesting forms of treatment has been the use of maggots. Maggots eat only tissue that is dead. Thus, if they are placed in an area containing dead bone and other dead cells, they destroy the dead material and clean up the cavity without harming that part of the bone or surrounding tissues which is still alive. When they have completed their job, they can be removed easily. This form of treatment for chronic osteomyelitis is still used by some authorities.

QUESTION: What could cause my 15-year-old daughter to wheeze so that she can be heard in the next room?

ANSWER: This is probably asthma. It could be caused by an allergy or it could come from a heart condition. The causes should be investigated. This condition should not be allowed to continue without proper treatment.

★ WE THE WOMEN

By RUTH
MILLET

We are just beginning to realize that the adult life of today's average woman is divided into three distinct phases.

There is the period, after she finishes school, when she goes to work to earn her own living.

Then comes marriage and the second period, when the birth of her first child makes her a full-time mother and homemaker.

The third period arrives when her children are grown and gone from her home, and she must either go back to work or find enough community work to make her feel that there is still an active place in the world for her.

Even though we have come to realize that there are three distinctly different periods in the modern woman's adult life, we are still educating her as though all of her adult life were going to follow the same course.

Some day we may work out a better educational system for women. We may educate her for a job—as we do men—to take care of the career years of her life.

Then if she marries, we may offer her education in homemaking. AFTER she is married. Certainly any woman could be taught in a year's concentrated study the skills she will need as a homemaker. Devoting her first year of marriage to going to school to learn how to handle her new and most important job wouldn't be a waste of time for any woman.

LATER YEARS CAN BE FRUITFUL

The third step in her education would be to get her ready to make the most of the years that are left to her after her children are grown.

In cases where the woman must or wishes to go back to work to support herself, she could take refresher courses to make her employable. If she doesn't want to go back to a career she could be taught enough to make some worthwhile contribution to her community. At this point in her life, she has the time which younger women lack, and the wisdom of experience. All she needs is to be shown how to be useful.

If we could make our plan of education as practical as that, we might not have so many unhappy, neurotic women.

As it is now we are educating women for the first phase of their adult living, the job-holding phase, and letting them struggle along as best they can to educate themselves in homemaking and to figure out what to do with their lives once the homemaker job requires only a little of their time and effort.

Don't Neglect Your Duty Saturday! Be Sure to Cast Your School Board Vote

One of the greatest privileges an American citizen has, is the right to vote. We should cherish that privilege. Most of us do. It is a sacred privilege. But too often, because in this country we take such things for granted, we neglect the "privilege."

It is because we neglect our "privileges" such as the ballot, that well organized, closely knit pressure and self-interest groups "take over" in government.

Let's not have that happen here in Dixon.

On Saturday, Dixon will elect a school board. We say "elect" advisedly, because, although there were four possible contested openings on the board, THERE ARE ONLY FIVE CANDIDATES for the four openings. Two of the possible openings are uncontested, which means that there are only two openings with three candidates seeking them. That is NOT GOOD.

Even though there is not much of a contest in the school board election we believe that Dixonites should go to the polls Saturday and vote, if only in protest against such "grab bag" elections. It virtually amounts to an election by default.

VOTE Saturday . . . by all means. Serve notice on office seekers that future elections will be contested and watched.

Doubles Do Rough Work, Says Lorraine Miller

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

Hollywood—(NEA)—I popped questions at gorgeous newcomer Lorraine Miller about her refusal to pose in her birthday suit in Italy and got a lot of snappy answers popped right back.

Lorraine is a Claudette Colbert type of movie dish with curves and it's being whispered around Hollywood that she'll be a star when the public casts its peepers on her in Robert Goetz's independent production, "Rapture."

She's a brassy glamor girl, too—brassy enough to talk herself out of a tight spot like nudity-for-art's sake in Italy.

The script of "Rapture" called for Glenn Langan to fall in love with a marble statue of Lorraine in the all-together.

The producer engaged Piaccio, one of the world's most famous sculptors, to chisel her chassis and Piaccio got boiling mad at her because she wouldn't take off all her clothes.

"You know what realists Rossini and other Italians are?" Lorraine asked me. "I'll not be the Rock of Gibraltar with anovoid, even better Grabie, but I let Piaccio know that American actresses used doubles for that kind of thing."

"Well, he told the Italian art critics and one newspaperman came right out in print and called me a prude."

"Would Piaccio pose in the nude?" she asked. "Would Wyman?" Would Stanwyck?

Lorraine finally won her gray matter—it won her a scholarship to the University of Michigan—and got Piaccio's artistic blood pressure back to normal.

"He had a Jerry Colona mustache," she laughed. "I promised him that I'd pose if he would shave his mustache. That ended the whole tussle in the tent."

Kroger Gives Scholarships to Students

Seventy-seven college scholarships will be awarded to outstanding high school graduates in 15 midwestern and southern states during 1949. It has been announced by the Kroger company.

Scholarships are worth $200 each and will be divided between students majoring in home economics and agriculture at 16 land-grant colleges. Last year, Kroger also awarded 77 scholarships at these colleges, a continuation of a program started 10 years ago.

Scholarship winners will be selected by the respective college scholarship committees on the basis of high school scholastic achievement and evidence of leadership qualities demonstrated in school, church, 4-H clubs, Future Farmers of America, Future Homemakers of America or similar organizations.

Following is a list of colleges participating in the plan and the number of scholarships awarded: Ohio State University, 12; Michigan State College, 6; University of Illinois, 6; Purdue University, 6; University of Missouri, 6; Penn State College, 4; University of Kentucky, 4; University of Arkansas, 4; University of Tennessee, 4; Mississippi State College, 4; Kansas State College, 4; University of Wisconsin, 4; Virginia Polytechnic Institute, 1; and West Virginia State College, 1.

Graduates of accredited high schools are eligible and may make application directly to the dean of the college of agriculture or the land grant college, or through county agents, home demonstration agents or vocational agricultural teachers. Information on the program may be obtained from them.

Opening—A Q 7

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

In the early days of contract, psychic bidding was used promiscuously. It added a thrill to the game, but I believe it lost more points than it gained. Every time a player won a hand with a psychic bid everybody heard about it. Those that resulted in a loss were quietly passed over.

However, Fred L. Karpin, of Washington, D. C. who has done a lot to promote the point-count system of bidding, proves in today's hand that psychic bidding still has a place in contract bridge.

As soon as his partner opened the bidding with one heart, Karpin in the North thought of a final contract of three no trump; but he certainly did not want to get a spade lead. Bear in mind that the spade suit is the correct one to lead at no trump. Karpin had no fear that the bidding would die when he bid one spade, and that might be the bid that would prevent the opponents from opening a spade.

When his partner showed a strong hand with the bid of three hearts, Karpin bid four diamonds, which supposedly was his second suit. He and his partner had not as yet agreed on a suit. When South bid four spades, Karpin's bid of five clubs might show a 4-4-1 distribution, or it might be a cue-bid showing the ace of clubs. In any event, Karpin's strong bidding was justification for South's bid of six diamonds.

The six diamond contract was ideal. With the queen of clubs opening Karpin made seven diamonds, while I think you will find it a little difficult to make even six hearts.

Used carelessly, psychic bids involve too great a risk but an occasional one used for the purpose has its advantages.

Women Wanted Siren and by Golly, Look!

Brownson, N.J., April 7—(AP)—It looks like the women of Brownson have a good chance of getting that new town siren.

This town of 409 elected a woman mayor in Tuesday's municipal election. They also put some women in the town council.

One of the main issues in the women's campaign was a new fire siren. The present one, the women claimed, is too old, takes too much time to start and is inconvenient. They want a modern siren, which the town's telephone operator can start directly from his switchboard.

The new mayor, Mrs. Ray Clark, received 43 votes to 41 for her closest opponent, Forrest Stewart.

"Every man in this town has been on the council at some time or other, including my husband, and what have they done—nothing."

Construction of the New York State capitol building at Albany began in 1847 but wasn't actually finished until 1879.

Voice of the People

Steward, III
April 6, 1949
Editor, Dixon Telegraph,

Dear Sir:

The cartoon on the front page of the Dixon Telegraph of April 2nd, 49 has been a source of quite a satisfaction to be advised, to which class belong the pensioned retired government officials, who so gloriously voted themselves a faint suspicion that the tax payers will take care of this obligation. Also it would be a satisfaction to know to which class belong many others who are listed on the government pay roll with no evidence of any duties being performed. Many of us would not object to being classed as lazy, shiftless, etc., if we only knew the right people. Please kindly advise. "Self Supporting."

Q—Who printed the first Bible?
A—The first printed Bible was the Gutenberg Bible, the earliest book known that was printed from movable metal type.

Q—Which is the largest snake?
A—The reticulate python is probably the largest of the living snakes. Its maximum length may be put down as 32 or 33 feet, its average length 20 feet or even less. The anaconda of South America is generally given second place with an extreme length of 28 feet.

Q—What is zoopraxography?
A—It is the science of animal motion. Quadrupeds have eight different methods of progression—walk, amble, trot, rack, canter, transverse gallop, rotary gallop and ricket: the last is confined to the kangaroo and his relatives.

Q—Who wrote the song "Benny Hava, O?"

A—This is part of an old Regular Army song. The original song was written by Lieutenant O'Brien of the Eighth Infantry in 1858, but many verses have been added since and the song has become traditional at West Point. It was sung by both Union and Confederate troops in the Civil War.

Q—When did William Jennings Bryan make his last public appearance?

A—His last public appearance was in 1925 as assistant to the prosecutor in the trial of J. T. Scopes, Tennessee school teacher who was accused of teaching evolution in the public schools. Bryan died shortly after the conclusion of the trial.

Bookbinder Says He Has Dying Trade

New York—(AP)—Bookbinder Gaston Pilon believes the age-old art of hand-embossed, gilt-edged bookbinding is dying.

In fact, Pilon, a 71-year-old artisan, says he knows of none other than himself in the United States or Europe, who still binds fine books by hand. He does it by special order.

Books hand bound by Pilon are in the libraries of King George of England, Albert, King of the Belgians, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, President Harry S. Truman, Winston Churchill and Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, several distinguished writers and other important people. The works include manuscripts and fine and rare books.

Among Pilon's own prized possessions is a letter Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower sent him after he had bound 35 special, goatskin leather-covered volumes of "Crusade in Europe."

Pilon still has a broad French accent. He works with more than 4,000 engraver tools, makes most of his own designs.

The craftsman shows his regret that apparently no American wants to carry on his intricate craft. He conducted a school in gold-tooling and binding. Only the rich attended this school as a hobby they later dropped, though Pilon's rates were nominal. Seven times he tried to train apprentices. "They quit too," he said. There was not enough money in the art.

Search for Mystery Schooner Continues

Norfolk, Va., April 7—(AP)—The Coast Guard continued today its search for a mystery schooner reported adrift in heavy seas with its rigging damaged and no sign of life aboard.

The craft was reported sighted Tuesday morning off the south Carolina coast about 75 miles east of Charleston.

The merchant ship Richard J. Cleveland reported it spotted the schooner, but received no reply to a signal whistle.

Two planes and Coast Guard surface craft combed the seas yesterday. They reported no sign of the mystery vessel.

POP Goes the QUEEN

AGAINST a moistering bulkhead, far forward, was a row of squat chests. "There," he ordered, "Hurry—open them up!" The four people moved cautiously toward the ironbound boxes. Barselou and John Henry wrestled with the first chest of the row, prying at the lid.

"Together," grunted Barselou. The two men panted in unison and forced it open. They stared into the black depths. John Henry lifted his head first and looked at the man in the pirate costume.

"False alarm," he said. "It's empty."

"Don't lie!" Trim roared.

Trim bounded forward and drove the other two aside with the gun. A moment later he raised a face that was pale and contorted with rage. Barselou still gazed at the opened chest as if hypnotized.

"Get back!" Trim commanded, name in his words. His lower jaw hung open and his wet tongue moved back and forth over his ugly teeth. Sin and the two men backed up. Their canteens' brown eyes flicked between Trim and the treasure chests as he went down the row looking at the dusty iron-bound tops. Most of the lids flew back instantly, banging against the bulkhead. A red dust arose and sunbeams danced on flakes of dust.

At the first chest, Trim uttered a howl and dipped his free hand within it. He pulled out a handful of round black objects like water-wreath marbles and held them close to his face, staring uncomprehendingly. Then he poked one in, ridd the tiny wrinkled balls sportively at Barselou.

"There's your fabulous riches," he shrieked. "There's the Queen's jewels!" He canted around madly, his joints jerking as though marionette strings guided him. His high cracked voice screamed at Barselou until gasps of spent breath stopped the flow.

eyes. He hissed softly. "This is high tragedy. I will not accept the role of clown."

Sin and John Henry backed up silently, Barselou mechanically.

"There. Right there," barked Trim as three backs touched the side of the galleon. The trio stood on a wide curb of wood that surrounded the entire deck—the gun platform. Behind them, the rectangular cannon ports revealed the rock face of the cliff, blind and gray.

SOMETHING hard bobbed against Sin's neck and she ducked. From a beam that ran the length of the ship's side, several rusty iron chains dangled. Each chain terminated in a wide iron cuff. The ship's irons, designed for lazy or mutinous seamen of His Majesty's Navy.

Trim was addressing Barselou. "Snap those chains around their wrists, if you please."

John Henry looked around desperately. Sin heaved her ribbing lips and asked, "What are you going to do, Mr. Trim? Please—"

"An old pirate custom, Mrs. Conover." A wrinkled hand pulled the cocked hat lower over spanned flickering eyes. "No prisoners. By the time you're found, you'll be indistinguishable from the other skeletons here."

"No—you can't!" Sin choked. She almost fell to her knees but John Henry held her to him.

The threatening pistol motioned at Barselou. The big man reached for the dangling chains. The muscles in his face were working now, but his eyeballs were transparent, far away, as though he were pondering some weighty problem.

Conover struggled out the expressionless gambler was inexorable. Machine-like, Barselou forced John Henry's wrists into the iron circles.

Sin submitted humbly. The pair stood side by side on the gun platform, their wrists held at ear level by the ancient cuffs anchored to chains from the beam above.

Barselou wheeled slowly and said, "What next?" He looked at the man with the gun disinterestedly.

'Unfair' Sale of Cigarettes To Be Curbed

Springfield, Ill., April 7—(AP)—Legislation to prevent "unfair" trade practices in the sale of cigarettes reached the Illinois house floor today with a passage recommendation.

The house license and privilege committee unanimously endorsed the bill yesterday after a brief hearing.

The bill in effect places a floor on retail and wholesale cigarette prices.

It forbids sales at below cost, which is defined as four per cent above what wholesalers pay for the cigarettes, and 10 per cent

Retailers or wholesalers would be required to sell at least at cost unless they could prove a profit below the fixed price.

A tobacco industry man told a reporter the legislation is aimed at preventing sale in Illinois of cigarettes imported from other states where no cigarette taxes are levied.

The bill says that advertising and sale of cigarettes at wholesale or retail with intent of injuring competitors or destroying or substantially lessening competition is an unfair and deceptive business practice.

Fines up to $500 are provided for wholesalers or retailers found guilty of an unfair business practice.

The state revenue department would administer provisions of the bill. The department could seek a court injunction to prevent any violation or threatened violation.

Chester, Ill., April 7—(AP)—The nude body of a teen brunette in her forties was found in the Mississippi river two miles south of here yesterday with a silk scarf knotted about the neck.

Shoes and stockings were the only clothing. The shoes had a Washington, D. C., label, but Coroner Lester C. Walker said there was no other clue to the woman's identity.

There had been a hard blow on the face but Walker could not tell whether it came before or after the body was in the river.

Neither could he tell whether the body started and struck the woman brought across the Channel to the Normans in the 11th century.

Russ Embassy Job Rumored For Navy Man

Washington, April 7.—(AP)—Alan G. Kirk, now American ambassador to Belgium, was reported today to be the best bet to succeed Gen. Walter Bedell Smith as Ambassador to Moscow.

There were indications that President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson were near final agreement on the 60-year retired admiral as the man to take over the tough assignment to the Soviet capital.

In fact, Mr. Truman may already have given his final consent to the selection.

A Big Question

In the new job, Kirk may have either many months of relative quiet and isolation from the outside world or may find himself in a hot spot of negotiation in the cold war.

General Smith resigned as President Truman's envoy to the Kremlin on March 25. He has returned to army service as commander of the First Army with headquarters in New York.

Kirk evidently was decided upon for the embassy post because he is experienced in diplomacy as a result of his service in western Europe with no record of direct clashes with the Soviets in the cold war and will be able either to sit tight and await developments or to swing into action with considerable skill if an opportunity comes to negotiate with the Kremlin.

Kirk was graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1909, served briefly in the American foreign service, then for 35 years, until 1946, was a regular naval officer.

On Balkan Group

In February 1946, Kirk was appointed ambassador to Belgium and minister to Luxembourg. In 1947, while retaining those duties, he was named by President Truman to serve as United States member on a special Balkan committee.

During his naval career in World War II, Kirk participated in allied landing operations in Sicily as commander of the amphibious force of the United States fleet. He was one of the main allied naval officers in preparing and directing the cross-channel invasion of France.

Lindquist Says

...and we feel that the Building Committee in selecting the first two were acting in good faith, forgetting for the moment the symmetrical design of the Court House. We probably failed in not having pointed out this fact to them.

Mr. Struckman was so earnest in his desire that the flag pole, a Memorial to the Lee County Veterans, be placed to the best possible advantage in Court House Square that he was willing to guarantee payment for the move if that was necessary. From the reporting it seems that Mr. Higby now has been placed in the position of carrying out that promise. Mr. Higby can now inform the various officers of the various groups of our desire.

File the Flag Pole

It is our hope that the question of the flag pole can now be put in a completed file, and that Veterans' Organizations, as well as all people of this area maintain their interest in all the problems which we will be called to answer in the next few years, for this is wonderful territory, and it is our challenge to keep it that way and hand it on to future generations better for our having been here.

With your paper acting as a sounding board with full factual reporting, you can keep this interest up and do the community a great service. Certainly day to day events and action of local government is front page news.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE W. LINDQUIST

Walnut Pair Honored on Anniversary

(Telegraph Special Service)
Walnut—Mr. and Mrs. George Schrader celebrated their Silver Wedding anniversary at their home on Sunday, March 27th. Two hundred relatives and friends were entertained at open house in the afternoon and evening. Forty relatives were present at a 6 o'clock dinner in the evening.
Refreshments at the open house were served from a beautiful table, decorated in silver, pink and white. Serving were Mrs. Schrader's sister, Mrs. Fenner Smith of Manlius, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Schrader.
The couple's only son, Lyle, came home from Dana College, Blair, Neb., for the occasion.
Wed In Princeton
Mr. and Mrs. Schrader were married in Princeton, March 27th, 1924 by the Rev. T. B. Ober.
Friends and relatives were present for the anniversary from Sheffield, Manlius, Yorktown, Tampico, Sterling, Dixon, Ohio, Kasbeer, Arlington and Walnut.

Nachusa School Holding Exhibit

The Nachusa school has on exhibit a group of reproductions of famous paintings obtained from the Illinois State Library, through the P.T.A. art chairman, Mrs. Marcus Gonnemann.
These pictures will be at the school all through next week. Friends and parents are invited to visit the school and see the art collection.
